Festival of Arts On in Red Bank

Cultural Event Expected to Bring A Large Crowd To Broad St.

RED BANK — Got a yen for culture? Or maybe you would just like to stroll down the middle of Broad St. without worrying about being hit by a car.

Selections By Bishop Are Made

TRENTON (AP) Bishop George W. Ahr of the Catholic diocese of Trenton yesterday appointed Rev. John J. Nowak as new pastor of the Church of St. Mary of Czestochowa, Bound Brook. Father Nowak will succeed the late Rev. Czeslaus M. Jasionowski, Bradevelt, now, the appointment was one of six made by the bishop to take effect Tuesday.

Broad St. is being blocked off to motor traffic today and tomorrow from Harding Rd. north to Linden Pl. In place of the innumerable cars which usually travel the street, nearly 500 paintings of all sizes, shapes and colors will hang from 750 feet of snow fencing in the middle and sides of the street.

140 Artists Due More than 140 artists are putting their paintings on display for the thousands of visitors expected to jam Broad St. Last year's show, believed to be the first time any municipality's main street was closed for a cultural exhibit, drew nationwide attention.

Almost $900 in cash prizes will be awarded to winners in the professional category. A refreshment booth will be located within the fenced-in area, and tables with umbrellas will be available for visitors.

Outgoing Marine Park The festival is an outgrowth of the first outdoor art show sponsored by the Monmouth Arts Foundation June 6, 1953, in Marine Park. The event grew too large for the park, and moved onto Broad St. last year. Merchants first criticized, and then had some second thoughts about the festival last year. Most decided at the end of the two days that the program did not hurt business.

No Unanimity Seen On U2 Plane Probe

Thomas Gates, Jr.

Cigarette Tax Passage Predicted

TRENTON (AP) — Speaker Maurice V. Brady (D-Hudson) says he thinks Gov. Robert B. Meyner's penny-a-pack cigarette tax increase has enough votes to pass in the Assembly Monday. Brady told a news conference in Meyner's office yesterday he thinks a bill to raise the tax from five cents a pack to six has 32 votes—one more than it needs.

His statement indicated Republican support for the Governor's pay-as-you-go proposal to finance new state institutions. Since Passaic County's four-member delegation has said it will oppose the measure and the five Essex County Democrats are at best lukewarm toward it.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators who looked into the administration's handling of the U2 spy plane incident expressed little hope today that they can draft a unanimous report on their investigation.

With few exceptions, bi-partisanship dominated the four days of closed-door hearings which ended yesterday. But such solidarity will meet a more severe test next week when the Foreign Relations Committee meets to consider drafting a report in this Presidential election year.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) told newsmen yesterday, "It would be unusual, if not unprecedented, if we got a unanimous report on an incident of this kind." He added: "Any criticism of past mistakes should not be interpreted as displaying disunity or lack of patriotism. Sometimes it is more unpatriotic to close our eyes to mistakes."

Before the hearing opened, many Republicans had expressed the view that an investigation of any kind would indicate a lack of national unity in the wake of verbal fireworks touched off by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

New Red Disarmament Plan Is Set Forth by Khrushchev; Seen As Bid to Split West

U.S. Studying Plan; See No Hope

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Soviet bid to split the Western allies was seen by officials here today in Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's latest disarmament plan. Khrushchev proposed that the means of delivering nuclear weapons—such as rockets, airplanes, submarines, warships and artillery—should be abolished at the very outset of any agreed disarmament program.

The proposal was made yesterday in letters to President Eisenhower and the heads of all other governments represented by diplomats in Moscow. Khrushchev said he was making the offer because of the interest of other countries, notably France, in attacking the problem of nuclear disarmament by controlling the means of delivery. State Department and U. S. officials are studying the detailed plan.

Khrushchev Levels Blast at Eisenhower

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today it is dangerous to have a man like President Eisenhower as head of a great country like the United States. If Eisenhower came to Russia, Khrushchev told a news conference called to discuss his new disarmament plan, the best job he could get would be running a children's home. The Soviet premier also said Eisenhower had personally told him that the President was not willing to see Germany reunited because "the United States fears a unified Germany."

Hints Joining Open Skies Proposal

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today called for destruction of all means of delivering nuclear weapons and liquidation of all foreign bases as first steps toward complete disarmament. Discussing a detailed new Soviet disarmament proposal made public last night, Khrushchev told a news conference in the Kremlin that abolition of all types of carriers of nuclear weapons would constitute a firm guarantee against surprise attacks, "on the prevention of which there has been so much talk in the United States of late."

Anti-U.S. Feeling Japan Leftists Protest Ike Trip

TOKYO (AP) — Bloody battles erupted between rock-throwing radical students and charging, club-wielding police today as Japanese Leftists launched a new wave of demonstrations against the U.S.-Japanese Security pact and President Eisenhower's visit to Japan. Students once broke into the grounds of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's official residence.

They were forced out, then charged three times by several hundred blue-uniformed, helmeted police. Heads were bloodied and college men and co-eds knocked to the street in a wild free-for-all that put the students in retreat. Kishi was not inside the brick and stone official residence. More than 70 college men kicked and punched club-wielding policemen after forcing open the iron gates. The battle lasted half an hour before the students were forced out. Several policemen were hurt.

Adlai Backed Stevenson Movement Is Started

MIDDLETOWN — A county-wide draft Adlai E. Stevenson movement was started here last night at a meeting of more than 50 supporters of the former Illinois governor. The organizational meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reade, Navesink River Rd.

A group chose the name Stevenson for President Committee of Monmouth County and elected Frank Kingdon, Fair Haven, as president. Calling for support for the Stevenson movement from county voters, Mr. Kingdon stated: "The fiasco of America's position in the world as exemplified by the catastrophe of the summit meeting has made it mandatory that America elect a president who can recapture this country's leadership of the forces of freedom throughout the world."

ATCO Tile Strike Talks Broken Off

KEYPORT — Robert K. Muller, president of the Architectural Tiling Co., said yesterday that there appears to be "no immediate chance" of settling the strike which started Wednesday. He said negotiations have been broken off and that "at this point management has no idea when talks may be resumed."

Plan Water Meters In Portaupeck Area

OCEANPORT — Residents of the Portaupeck section of this borough are due to get water meters. Borough Council last night authorized advertisement for the purchase and installation of 100 meters. Otis R. Seaman, borough engineer, estimated the total cost at $8,000.

Two Posts Are Filled By Baron

NEW SHREWSBURY — Kenneth Hillbrunner of Wayside Rd. was appointed to the Zoning Board of Adjustment by Mayor Karl K. Baron and the council last night. Mayor Baron also appointed James S. Brown of 692 Tinton Ave. to the Planning Board. Both appointments fill the unexpired term of Charles W. Johnson, whose resignation was accepted with regret. Mr. Johnson's letter to the council said he is moving to Philadelphia for business reasons. His resignation was effective Wednesday.

Broadway Blacked Out

NEW YORK (AP) — The Broadway stage is blacked out for the first time in 41 years, a victim of a bitter dispute between actors and producers. In the Midtown theatrical district last night, as the 8:30 curtain time came and went, there were no blazing lights on theater marquees, no surging crowds of pedestrians, no swarms of taxis honking and jockeying to get their fares to the playhouses.

Equity, but the League turned it down. Thrown out of work were 1,000 actors and 5,000 theatrical technicians such as stagehands, musicians and electricians. Equity presented an almost solid front, from its lowly bit player to the big-name star. Actor Tom Bosley, who plays the late New York Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia in the musical "Fiorello," was asked what the fiery little mayor would have done to solve the contract dispute. Replied Bosley: "He would have locked both sides in one room until the thing was settled—fast."

Plan Benefit Concert To Aid Family

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — A benefit concert by the high school band will be held June 16 with proceeds being donated to the Joseph J. Machanska family, whose home and possessions were destroyed by fire Sunday.

The family of eight lost everything when the fire leveled their three story house at 49 East Garfield Ave. Location of the concert will be determined by the numbers of tickets sold to the affair. If under 700 are sold, the concert will be held in the high school auditorium. If more than 700 are purchased the affair will be at the Firemen's memorial field.

Anti-Gasoline Alley Code To Be Proposed In Raritan

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — An ordinance regulating gasoline service stations will be offered by Committee members Philip J. Blanda, Jr. and James G. Brady at tonight's meeting of the Township Committee. The proposal stipulates that no station may be erected within 1,000 feet of any school, church, library, playground, or other public building or any other service station. It requires an annual $10 license fee for each station gasoline pump. It sets up regulations governing the number, location and size of station driveways, construction of gasoline storage tanks, tank capacity, and devices for gaging.

Construction Tiff Eatontown Rt. 35 Job Criticized

TRENTON (AP) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner and state AFL leaders clashed yesterday over the use of Highway Department maintenance crews on an Eatontown construction project. Louis P. Margiante and Vincent J. Murphy, president and secretary-treasurer of the state AFL, wired Meyner that New Jersey's highway building program "has hit a new low in productivity," causing heavy unemployment in the construction industry.

Palmer Comments The AFL leaders specifically protested use of Highway Department employees to revamp the Eatontown traffic circle on Rt. 35. They said the work should be done by union construction workers under a private contract. He said the Highway Department estimated it would take at least six weeks to go through the process of taking bids and awarding a contract, while the program of 142 million dollars this year, more than five times the amount spent in 1951.

Meyner told a news conference the telegram was based on a "misstatement of fact." He said a report from Highway Commissioner Dwight R.G. Palmer showed a construction program of 142 million dollars this year, more than five times the amount spent in 1951. Murphy, informed of the governor's remarks, asked: "Where is it being spent? Thousands upon thousands of operating engineers, heavy construction laborers, iron workers, carpenters, masons, etc."

Churches to Merge At Service Sunday

UNION BEACH — The official merger of Congregational Church and the Grace Methodist Church will take place Sunday at the 11 a. m. services in Grace Methodist Church.

The two churches, merging "for a stronger more united Protestant church for the purpose of maintaining a full time ministry," started proceedings to merge Aug. 2, 1959, under the guidance of Rev. Ellis Hemmingsway, assistant moderator of the Middle Atlantic Conference of Congregational Christian Churches, and Rev. Richard Hanev, who was pastor of the Congregational Church then.

The Congregational Church will withdraw from its conference, in order to effect the merger.

Grace Methodist Church will remain in the Methodist Conference, and the united congregation will continue under the name Grace Methodist Church.

The Congregational Church building will be moved, in the near future, to the Grace Church site, and will be converted into an educational building.

Started in 1926

The Congregational Church had its start as a Sunday school Nov. 14, 1926, the first church service being held Dec. 12, 1926, in a store on Union Ave., until a year ago the location of the Union Beach Bakery. Services were conducted by Edward Robinson until the Evangelistic Committee of New York, under the auspices of the Congregational Church, sent the first minister, Rev. Sterling Richardson. The first Sunday school superintendent was Miss Ella Howell, assisted by Mrs. Anthony Miller, both still residing in Union Beach.

During January, 1927, plans were formulated to build a church. The church built by John Freiwald was completed in August, 1927, and dedicated Oct. 30, 1927.

On Oct. 24, 1951, ceremonies were held to celebrate the "burning of the mortgage."

Many ministers and laymen have succeeded Rev. Mr. Richardson since his death Oct. 31, 1932.

In 1958, Rev. Mr. Hanev served as pastor, and it was during this time that the thought of uniting with another church congregation was considered, at the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Hemmingsway.

A committee was appointed to contact several churches in the area. As a result of the committee's report, the membership voted in favor of uniting with Grace Methodist Church.

Cottage Prayer Meetings

Grace Methodist Church grew out of a series of cottage prayer meetings which began Oct. 26, 1922. These lasted until Oct. 24, 1924, when a meeting was held in the Florence Ave. School to organize a church, to be known as the Community Church.

The services of Rev. George Smith, Keypert, were obtained in December for three months. He was followed in March, 1925, by Rev. T. A. Wallace, a student minister who came on week-ends.

On Jan. 15, 1925, the church became affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Feb. 19, 1925, the church was established under the direction of Rev. Mr. Wells, acting for the district superintendent. The name "Grace" was selected Feb. 26, 1925, and on March 15 Rev. Mr. Wallace assumed charge of the new church.

Built in 1927

The church was built during February, 1927, under the pastorate of Rev. J. C. Parsons.

Several ministers served after Rev. Mr. Parsons. In October, 1930, Rev. Edward D. Hyrne became pastor and served until the spring of 1941. It was during Rev. Mr. Hyrne's pastorate that the Community Methodist Church of Cliffwood and Grace Methodist Church of Union Beach were joined in a circuit.

Through the efforts of the Ladies' Aid Society, the church mortgage was burned in 1949.

In 1956, the proposed plans for an educational unit were started.

Rev. Leon C. Zinkler, the present pastor, came to the Grace Methodist Church in October, 1958. Under his leadership the educational unit was completed and consecrated Jan. 11, 1959. A few months later the membership voted to merge with the Congregational church.

Home for Chronic Sick Appeals for Volunteers

SHREWSBURY — An appeal for men and women volunteers to train and serve at the Home for Chronic Sick, 81 Washington St., Long Branch, has been issued by Mrs. Joseph Olivier, chairman of the county Red Cross chapter Gray Lady Service.

The appeal follows a formal request from Dr. Joseph Fox, executive director, telling of the need for recreational service.

Diversion for bed patients is a traditional Red Cross Gray Lady Service, and volunteers are sought to provide visiting with the shut-ins, and to arrange parties and recreation in the recreation rooms on each floor.

The home, the former Dr. Hazard Memorial Hospital, came to Long Branch last September. Plans to expand over a five-year period will begin soon, with the addition of property on either side of the home.

Interested persons may telephone Mrs. Olivier at Red Cross headquarters, Broad St., for information. Mrs. Frank Schreiber is director of nurses at the home, and applicants may apply to her any day for Gray Lady membership. Candidates also may apply at the Chapter House.

Men volunteers are known as "Gray Men" and wear gray jackets while performing their Red Cross volunteer duties.

Daytime classes at the home and at Red Cross headquarters will start early in July, according to Mrs. Olivier and Mrs. Schreiber.

Executives OK PTA Programs

MORGANVILLE — The Parent-Teacher Association's executive committee met in the school last week when the budget and program were discussed and accepted.

It also was decided that the executive committee and PTA members should donate a gift for a sick child.

PTA members at the Atlantic Highlands School Wednesday were Mrs. Joseph Bruce, Mrs. Joseph Lanzaro, Jr., Mrs. Kurt Schwarz, Mrs. Joseph LaMura, Jr., Mrs. Bowden Datzkiwsky and Mrs. Norman Janwich.

Copies of the by-laws will be ordered for each member of the executive committee.

The following committee chairmen were appointed: School-education, Charles Sokolowsky; program, Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. Michael Ryniewicz; membership, Mrs. Lawrence Youngman; budget and finance, Mrs. Robert Seber, Jr., Congress publications, Lawrence Youngman; health and safety, Mrs. Joseph LaMura, Jr., and Mrs. George Murdock; parent and family and life and education, Mrs. Joseph Lanzaro, Jr., and Bowden Datzkiwsky; welcome and hospitality, Mrs. Norman Jandwich and Mrs. R. ## Manalapan Plans Big Home Project

MANALAPAN TOWNSHIP — Township Committee has introduced an ordinance which would permit the building of a 16 million dollar "Olympia of Monmouth" village for senior citizens on the site of the Battleground Farm, Rt. 33.

Public hearing will be held following action on the proposal by the township Planning Board. The village will provide homes for 1,300 to 2,000 persons over 60 years of age and will be built by Olympia, Inc., headed by G. Warfield Hobbs, vice president of the First National Bank of the City of New York, and chairman of the board of "Olympia of Monmouth" Shopping Center.

The village will include a shopping center, apartment houses, small homes, an auditorium, a theater, a geriatrics laboratory, three chapels. It will provide jobs for more than 200 persons.

It will be governed by a board of trustees composed of six members of Olympia and two township residents. Water and sewerage systems will be provided.

The land was purchased from John Barovsky who bought the farm from the late Joseph Carr. Construction, if approved is granted, is expected to begin in October.

2 Get Degrees From Maryland

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — James C. King, 25 Shadowbrook Rd., Shrewsbury, and Gary J. Platterspief 64 Lafayette St., Rumson, will receive degrees today at the commencement of the University of Maryland.

Grand Jury Indicts Six In County

FREEHOLD — The Monmouth County Grand Jury yesterday indicted Russell Czujak, 18, of Elizabeth, on charges of attempting to use a dangerous weapon against another person.

According to Assistant Prosecutor John A. Petillo, Czujak, along with two juveniles, was riding in Union Beach on Rt. 36 when he fired two shots from a .22 rifle at the car of Gary Kessler of Ave. D, Atlantic Highlands. One of the bullets hit the trunk of the car and the other hit a tire, the prosecutor said. Czujak claims, Mr. Petillo said, that the Kessler car passed him on the right and cut him off.

A Long Branch man was indicted on a charge of raping a 29-year-old woman in Oceanport April 6. The prosecutor said that Frank Nostrom, 27, of 19 Atlantic Ave., picked up the woman, who is afflicted with cerebral palsy, and took her to a lonely section of Portaupeck where the alleged incident occurred.

Joseph Pearlman, 55, whose last known address was Stamford, Conn., was indicted on a charge of bigamy. According to Mr. Petillo, Pearlman married Jeannette Bauman in Virginia in 1939, and on Feb. 27, 1957, he married Beatrice Freeman, presently of River St., Red Bank, without obtaining a divorce from his first wife.

Mauro Brisceese, of 87 Manchester Ave., Keypert, was indicted on a charge of stealing a motor vehicle belonging to Lee Harris of Second St., Keypert, on Oct. 7. He drove the car to Morrisville, Pa., where he was picked up by police, Mr. Petillo said.

Richard Sweets, 18, of Newark, also was indicted on a charge of stealing a motor vehicle. Mr. Petillo said that on April 17, Sweets and two juveniles stole a car belonging to Joseph Vandervere of 317 Front St., Union Beach.

Charles Shavers, 22, of Texas Rd., Morganville, was indicted on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon on April 30 on Rt. 520 in Marlboro Township. Police found him with an unloaded .38 revolver in his pocket, the prosecutor said.

Jay Duncan

FORT DIX — Pvt. Jay Duncan, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duncan, 46 Circle Ct., Eatontown, has been assigned to Company H, of the Third Training Regiment for eight weeks of basic training in the Army Reserves. He is a graduate of Middletown Township High School.

Vets May Choose Pension Law Granting Best Aid

NEWARK — T. V. Williams, regional manager of the Veterans Administration says pensioners placed on the VA rolls from July 1 on will be governed entirely by the provisions of the new pension law.

An instruction pamphlet and an election card has been sent by VA to each present pensioner. If, after careful study, these pensioners decide to remain under the old law, the card should not be returned, and the current rate of payments will automatically continue.

Should any pensioner prefer the new law and desire the full advantage of its higher payments, he or she should fill in and mail the completed card as soon as possible, Mr. Williams said.

Pensioners choosing provisions of the new law after July 1 will have their new payments started on the date they notified VA of their choice, rather than have payments retroactive to July 1, 1960.

Once a pension recipient elects the new law and has cashed the first check received under it, he or she can never return to the old law, said Mr. Williams. But the pension recipient can delay selection of the new law for as long as he wishes.

A decisive factor under the new law is any veteran's net worth. Veterans having sizable estates will not receive pension money under its terms. The net worth is estimated from the values of property, stocks and bonds, cash deposits or other items of value owned by each veteran.

"Since circumstances alter cases," said Mr. Williams, "what might seem to be an ample estate might still leave the veteran in need. Thus there is no hard and fast rule, but each case will be considered separately on its own merits."

In each case the VA will consider the type of property owned by the veteran, the veteran's age, his life expectancy, his state of health, the number of persons dependent on him, his income and similar pertinent facts.

Retirement payments received arranged for June 8.

by veterans under the Railroad Retirement Act also will be counted as income under the new pension law.

Under the present pension law, Railroad Retirement payments do not count as income. This will remain true for those veterans who stay under the present law.

Check Pension Rates, Says VA

NEWARK — Widows of war veterans who have been receiving pensions should make a comparison between the old pension rates and those provided by the new law, T. V. Williams, manager of the regional office of the Veterans Administration, said today.

To enable the widow to reach a decision, the VA has supplied a "quick comparison" of the two pension laws.

Under the present pension law an eligible widow receives $50.40 if she has no children and if her income is not over $1,460 a year, Mr. Williams said.

A widow with a child receives $63 and is allowed to earn as much as $2,700 a year before becoming ineligible. For each additional child, $7.56 a month may be added to the basic $63.

Under the new law, the amount of pension a widow will receive is tied more closely with her annual income. A widow without dependents may receive $60 a month if her income is not greater than $600. She can have income as high as $1,200 and still receive $45 a month or as high as $1,800 and still receive $25. But, at the $1,800 figure, the pension payments cease.

A widow with one child will receive a pension of $75 a month if her annual income is not over $1,000. She will receive $60 a month if her income is $2,000 or under, and $40 a month if her income is $3,000 or under. Income above $3,000 puts an end to pension payments.

BETSY WILL DEFEND

ELMSFORD, N. Y. (AP) — Betsy Rawls will defend her Tri-angle Round Robin crown at the Knollwood Country Club here Saturday June 9-12 against a select field of 15 lady professional golfers. A procelebrity event is being arranged for June 8.

THE WOMEN'S DIVISION of the United Jewish Appeal drive in the Red Bank area will hold a tea Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Unterberg in New Shrewsbury to further the fund-raising appeal. Arrangements for the tea were made at a rally brunch this week. Committee aides, left to right, are Mrs. Unterberg and Mrs. Marvin Broder, Rumson, and Mrs. Bertram Feinswog, New Shrewsbury, chairmen of the women's division.

Blair Will Is Probated

FREEHOLD — The will of David H. Blair, former broker and harness race horse owner, was among those recently probated by Surrogate Edward C. Broege.

Mr. Blair, West Deal, who died May 14, willed $200,000 to his nephew, Blair Ortman; $2,500 each to his brother Clifford Blair and his sisters Besse Juskovitz and Lulu Bradley.

Kathryn J. Lynch, Asbury Park, who died April 23, left $5,500 to friends and relatives, $6,000 to Elizabeth Moeller; $2,000 each to Joseph F. Mullin and Ernest Gatta; $1,000 to the Boys' club of Asbury Park, and the remainder of her estate was left in trust to her nephew Harold R. Whitfield.

Upon his death it is to be divided equally among Monmouth Medical Center, Fitkin Hospital, Boys' Club, Salvation Army, First Baptist Church of Asbury Park and Father Flanagan's Boys Town.

Other Wills

Anna Hilliker, Middletown Township, who died March 13, left $1,000 to her daughter-in-law Dorothy H. Hilliker; $300 each to grandchildren Mary L. Hilliker, Jane Anne Hilliker and Frederick W. Hilliker and the rest of her estate to her children Hilda H. Luker, Alfred Hilliker, Jr., and Frederick W. Hilliker.

James P. Thorsen, Sea Bright, who died May 14, left 20 per cent of his estate to his wife, Ethel Thorsen, and 40 per cent each to his son, James Thorsen and daughter Margaret Hally.

Francis Becker, Keansburg, who died April 20, left his tavern and hotel business to his wife, Marion B. Becker, and his friend, Thomas Bizzoco. The rest of his estate was willed to his wife.

Sarah Watson, Keansburg, who died April 28, left her estate to her sons, William and Louis Watson.

Herbert H. Hurd, Sr., Long Branch, who died May 5, left his estate to his niece Ruth H. Miner and his nephew Calvin J. Hurd.

Milton N. Stein, Long Branch, who died May 14, left his estate to his wife, Ethel Stein.

Mrs. Kessler Is Named

TRENTON (AP) — A woman who has never played bingo is a new member of the state commission which regulates bingo and raffles games.

Mrs. Hortense F. Kessler, Orange, former president of the state Public Utility Commission, was sworn in Wednesday by Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

She will draw no pay for the post, which will run until March 29, 1965. There are four other members on the bingo-raffles commission.

The installation ceremony was attended by her family. Her father, Moe I. Fud, Paterson, held the Bible.

Mrs. Kessler resigned from the PUC four years ago to take a leading part in Adlai Stevenson's campaign for president.

She told a newsman she thinks Stevenson could be elected this year if the Democrats nominate him, but said she clings to what she called "a weird hope" that Meyner will wind up as the candidate.

Grace Methodist Guild Meets

UNION BEACH — Mrs. Kenneth Clayton and Mrs. Jay Demerest were hostesses when the Young Women's Guild of Grace Methodist Church met last week.

A surprise baby shower was given for Mrs. Leon Zinkler.

Others attending were Mrs. Louis Van Rixoot, Mrs. John Albrecht, Mrs. Gerould Cannon, Mrs. John Di Fedele, Miss Edith Arker, Mrs. Neil Mc Daniel, Mrs. James Baldass, Mrs. John McInness, Mrs. John Bell and Mrs. Edwin Olah.

Niagara U Degree For R. J. Collins

KEYPORT — Robert John Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Collins, Amboy Rd., Cliffwood, will be among the 200 undergraduates and graduates to receive degrees Monday at the commencement program of Niagara University. He will receive a bachelor of science degree in general business administration.

Very Rev. Vincent T. Swords, president of the university, announced that Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, will deliver the commencement address and will receive an honorary doctor of fine arts degree at the 103d commencement.

It also was disclosed that honorary degrees will be conferred upon Rev. James H. Liscip, pastor of Mother of Divine Grace Church, Buffalo; Congressman Leo W. O'Brien, Albany, N. Y.; Weldon R. Oliver, superintendent of schools, Niagara Falls, and Peter J. Murray, Islip, L. I., business executive.

The commencement program will open at 10:30 a. m. at a baccalaureate mass.

Recreation Unit Plans Series Of Evening Movies

MIDDLETOWN — The Recreation Commission announced this week that a new program will be offered to township youngsters and parents this summer. The program chairman, Frank DeMaria, said a series of early evening outdoor movies will be scheduled for the supervised parks and playgrounds provided there is enough public interest and support for this type program.

Recreation Superintendent Jack W. Moody has made arrangements for a test program to be held in Bodman Park, on June 10, starting at 8:15 p. m.

The program will feature the Walt Disney color production of "Dumbo."

"Dumbo" will be shown after three short cartoons featuring "Donald Duck," "Guffy" and "Chip 'n Dale."

No charge will be made for the outdoor movie. Some benches will be provided.

Should the test program on June 10 be successful, a six weeks series will be booked for showing at Evergreen Park, East Keansburg Playground, Bayview playground and Gordon playground, in addition to Bodman Park.

GOP Club Hears Probation Man

MIDDLETOWN — The Cherry Tree Republican Club met May 27 in the Harmony Bowling Alley conference room and heard William Gannon, county probation officer, on juvenile delinquency and what Monmouth County is doing to curb it.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Richard Ralston, 9 Johnson Ter., Middletown, and will be an informal barbecue.

Mrs. Ralston is in charge of a membership campaign.

PATENT IS GRANTED

MC KEESPORT, Pa. — Peter Arnold, Elberon, has been awarded a patent for his invention of Automatic Electroplating apparatus which modifies the treatment needed to be given to individual pieces of work loaded on processing racks. The patent was assigned to the Hanson Van Winkle-Munning Co., Matawan.

Nine Satellite Cards Returned in Contest

MIDDLETOWN — Exactly one month after 500 satellite balloons were launched from Bodman Park, nine returned to earth and were mailed back to the town.

The other eight balloons have been returned from places on Long Island.

The others are assumed to have gone out to sea, still in orbit or earthbound and not found to date.

One balloon dropped in Milford, Conn. It was launched by Joan I.

Ann Dreyer and found by Nicholas Pencuch, 21 Hale Ave., Milford, Conn.

Joan's satellite traveled the farthest distance qualifying her for first place in the launching contest.

The other eight balloons have been returned from places on Long Island.

Jack W. Moody, recreation superintendent, said that another month will be allowed for the receipt of satellite cards.

Winners will be announced July 1.

NEW YORK—Banks too have come along to lighten the load to watch their own pennies. With the volume of checks and the cost of clerical handling soaring, more banks around the nation are adopting or studying the use of machines to do this work automatically.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond reports that while eight years ago the nation's banks handled around eight billion checks, this year they are expected to handle 14 billion, and by 1970 perhaps 22 billion. Often a single check is handled 10 to 20 times during its journey through several banks before the money involved is finally collected.

Others have estimated that just sorting checks alone costs banks 250 million dollars, occupying 475,000 clerks for 100 million man hours.

Banks started doing something about it back in the 1940's with punched card systems to perform bookkeeping tasks. More recently electronic computers decade will see financial institutions spending 1 1/2 billion dollars for various devices to do the job by machine.

Using Magnetic Ink

The American Banking Association's bank management commission has given its blessing to use of magnetic ink containing iron oxide at the bottom of checks. This gives the customer's account number, and routing symbols and adds the amount of the check. Each numeral gives a different signal when subjected to electric impulse, and when the data is fed into a computer, the bank obtains totals, controls sorting and record printing.

Officials of International Business Machines says its magnetic equipment will be delivered to 25 banks across the country by the end of this year.

A later development than magnetic ink character recognition is a device called optical sensing which can scan ordinary typewritten characters.

Farrington Manufacturing Co. makes one used by American Telephone & Telegraph for reading dividend checks. First National City Bank of New York uses one for its travelers checks.

Burroughs has one being tested at Fort Monmouth, N. J., by the Signal Corps. Remington Rand divisions of Sperry-Rand and IBM have some in the works.

Something Understandable

President Eisenhower has expressed the Utopian desire that understanding among nations be spread until the Western Alliance need no longer exist as an "exclusive club."

"Understanding," said Eisenhower, "is the key to peace." The President emphasized that view in talking with 140 young political leaders from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries who have been visiting in Washington.

"As we among ourselves achieve that understanding, we spread it a little bit and somebody else comes into it. Finally we don't have to be an exclusive club. We don't have to have NATO and NATO organizations; everybody can get in finally, even the Iron Curtain."

"When that happens," said the President, "there has been real peace and then we will really have achieved a lot of happiness."

These words by Eisenhower deserve study. They prove once again both his own peace-loving intentions in foreign affairs and place the thinking of the American people into focus.

As our President made this call for wider understanding, the world was awed by the brashness of new rocket threats on the part of the Soviet Union. The Russians are speaking of the great devastation they can level upon other countries. They scream of what they can wipe out with their bombs. The Americans talk of ways to secure peace. That is the big difference between them.

Only recently, President Eisenhower was insulted in front of his friends in Paris. A lesser man than he would have retaliated in kind when Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev tried to bring the President to his knees in humiliation. But President Eisenhower has a trail of classic examples of his own ability in dealing with bullies. He is not one to let temper be his guide.

Even when the President went by radio and television before the people to explain the collapse of the summit, he remembered his own responsibility, not to Americans alone, but the free peoples of the earth. At Paris, the talks did not open. But, examining the whole situation, Eisenhower recalled that much good had been accomplished in past negotiations. And he held open the door to future agreements.

Whether one can say understanding finally will be reached with the Communists or not, it truly can be stated that it is worth the effort. War would lead to destruction greater than ever has been known on earth. In the absence of war, the only open road is through enlightened understanding. And that can be reached only by continuous, though difficult, negotiation through high level talks between leaders of the great powers. They will take time, patience and skill. The road ahead is no easy one.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

By SYLVIA PORTER

The giant investment funds of America, which hold billions of dollars of your savings, have well over one-third of all their stock investments in only 49 stocks.

By any yardstick, this is a handful of stocks — reveals a startling concentration of money in a few corporations, an extraordinary unanimity of opinion among the professionals in Wall Street on what are the best stock investments now.

To indicate the extent of the concentration, the funds' stake in each of these stocks runs from at least $50 million to over $335 million. To indicate the degree of agreement on the superiority of the list, the 73 funds which qualify as giants because of the size of their assets have put $4.4 billion of the $12.4 billion they have in stocks in just these 49 issues.

Now even though I spend most of my working hours in Wall Street, I freely confess that every time I come across a list of stocks favored by the pros, I study it with intense interest. Maybe they don't have as much inside information as I think they have, but I figure they surely are better analysts than most of us. Thus, when I received the latest list of the preferred 49, compiled by the Capital Gains Research Bureau, I did my usual probing job and turned up some facts which I suspect will intrigue you as they did me.

Space prohibits a listing of the whole 49, but here are the top 15, ranked in order of the total dollars invested in them. Here too is how the 15 performed in the stock market decline of January-mid-May—when the market, as measured by Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks, declined 9.13 per cent.

(1) International Business Machines. Held by a full 48 of the 73 funds, this stock actually went up during the stock market sell-off. The rise was 27 per cent. (2) Texaco, Inc. Also held by 48 funds, this one went down more than the market average—17.1 per cent, to be exact. (3) U.S. Steel. Down more than the market—23.8 per cent.

- (4) DuPont. Down more than the market—20.8 per cent. (5) General Electric. Down more than the market—10.8 per cent. (6) Goodyear Tire & Rubber. Down more than the market average—20.4 per cent. (7) International Paper. Down substantially more—26.3 per cent. (8) Standard Oil, N. J. Down more than the market—17.1 per cent. (9) American Telephone. Happily, this one went up during the period of market decline. The rise was a comfortable 9.9 per cent. (10) General Motors. Down more than the average—21.1 per cent. (11) Royal Dutch Petroleum. Down more—14.2 per cent. (12) Ford Motor. Obviously down more—27.8 per cent. (13) Minnesota Mining. This one went up—10.2 per cent. (14) Armco Steel. Back to the dreary side—down 22.6 per cent. (15) Gulf Oil. Still dreary—down 19.7 per cent.

To Dedicate Church, School In Lincroft

LINCROFT — Bishop George W. Ahn, of the Trenton Diocese will dedicate the new church and school of St. Leo the Great Catholic Parish here June 19 at 11 a.m.

Following the Bishop's blessing, a solemn high mass will be offered at 11:30 a.m. in the church. Rev. Paul A. Catter, principal of Holy Cross Catholic High School, Riverside, will preach the sermon at the mass.

The recently completed church will seat more than 850 persons. The school will house eight classrooms on the first floor with living quarters for the Sisters of Glen Riddle provided on the second floor.

A cafeteria and auditorium is located in the basement of the church. The $700,000 project is located on the 18 acre Landau tract on Newman Springs Rd. and Hurley's Ln. Thomas Henry Moran, Princeton, is the architect.

The poet Ralph Waldo Emerson was also a minister in the Unitarian Church.

THESE DAYS

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

It is nothing new for students to get excited and make demonstrations. Sometimes, they are serious; at other times, they amount to just fun. The Korean student demonstrations ultimately forced out Dr. Syngman Rhee after his long tenure as President of Korea. The students strike in Turkey has forced upon that country a change of government; the socialist students strike in Japan is still running its course and what may come of it is not at all clear.

The greatest demonstration of students occurred in China in 1919. It changed the course of Chinese history. I was closely associated with it and can speak of it intimately. Starting in Peking and Shanghai simultaneously and independently, the students, inspired by patriotism, objected to China signing the Paris Treaty because of the unfair Shantung clauses. China did not sign. But until the Chinese government made up its mind, the students had succeeded in closing down an entire nation. Not a school, factory, shop, or restaurant was open. Even the prostitutes and sing-song girls went on strike. It was spontaneous and total. Out of this movement grew the Chinese Communist Party which today is in control of Mainland China.

The recent San Francisco demonstrations, organized by students of the University of California, are particularly significant. It was a mass strike against the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the attack was on the City Hall. It was repelled by the police and fire departments. These university students, perhaps as many as 400, were not all Communists, but the leadership was Communist and the main attack in the university itself has been upon the FBI and the ROTC. It is to be pointed out that much of this anti-American influence has flowed over into Stanford University.

One of the principal students called before the House Committee on Un-American Activities was Douglas Wachter, an 18-year-old sophomore at the University of California. Douglas is a second generation Communist, his parents having been professional Communists for more than 20 years. His mother is the organizer of the Communist Party in the East Bay Region of Northern California. Douglas Wachter was student body president of the Berkeley High School and is a Communist youth leader in the West. He attended the National Convention of the Communist Party at New York in December, 1959, as an official delegate from Northern California.

Although the University of California students demonstrated against a duly constituted Committee of the Congress of the United States, President John D. Goheen, of the Stanford University Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, transmitted a letter to the attorney general of California which stated:

"... Without any judgment concerning the innocence or guilt of these individuals, it is clear that great dangers to effective education are inherent in the hearing itself."

Precisely what dangers to education are imputed in the Goheen letter, do not appear. It is interesting to note that the general university protest was against the existence of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Canon Richard Byfield of Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, said:

"We wait for a time when the right, the left and the center can react on one another to maintain a free society in which we all believe."

Precisely what this means, it is difficult to say. What does the word "react" mean in this context? Does it mean that students are to be permitted to form mobs to create wild disorder? Is this what the word, react, means?

Assemblyman John A. O'Connell of San Francisco said:

"I do believe a Communist has a right to hold his political view and to say it aloud in public just as I am talking here. This very meeting is a graphic example of what it means to a free American."

In these days when communications are so swift, student riots are contagious. When they appear in one country, they spread to other countries.

WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON — Nobody has ever before accused Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota of being a political middle-roader. But the new circumstances of the race for the Democratic presidential nomination have put him in precisely a middle-road position—and possibly a powerful one at that.

In a curious way, he has attained a new significance in his own defeat for that nomination. He withdrew from the scramble after his heavy loss in the West Virginia primary to the front-runner, Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. But notwithstanding the drubbing he took there and elsewhere, Humphrey has picked himself up from the dust to find that all is by no means lost.

In the first place, there is now a serious possibility that in some circumstances the vice presidential designation can be his. True, to accept it he would have to retire from his present race for reelection to the Senate. But he probably would consent if he thought the ticket, with himself on it, could win in November.

There is some irony in this prospect. For "ole Hubert," as he is known affectionately by Senate colleagues who may or may not agree with his views, never had any chance for the big nomination, anyhow. He was far too liberal; indeed, extremely liberal to many minds.

And in the second place, Humphrey, the new middle-roader, may also become Humphrey the decisive middle-man at the Democratic National Convention. If, as now appears likely, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas is able strongly to challenge Kennedy for the presidency, "ole Hubert" may hold the balance of power between the two big rivals.

For, sadly knocked about though he was in the presidential primary contests, Humphrey still has 75 to 100 convention votes more or less pledged to him in the beginning. He does not claim to control this bloc in any "boss" sense. He does not doubt that it would fragment quickly if any quick bandwagon rush developed for any candidate at the convention.

All the same, in the absence of any opening convention blitz, Humphrey's opinions among these delegates will be very strong. And should Kennedy and Johnson get into a real competition, each holding some massive bloc but still a bloc short of the 761 votes required to nominate, this Humphrey group would look as big as a rock-candy mountain. In such a situation, 75 delegates can be as decisive as 375.

Humphrey's inherent position as a potential honest broker at the convention has been strengthened for other reasons. He has taken his licking well, and all politicians like that. And in the wide split among the top Democratic contenders over the summit collapse Humphrey is, again, usefully in the middle.

He has not gone all the way with Johnson in suggesting that the main thing now is to forget the past and unite behind a Republican President so long as he sits in the White House.

But Humphrey has also been far less vocal than Kennedy or Adlai Stevenson or Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri in attacking the President for the summit blowup. Basically, the Humphrey advice has been: "Stop the name calling on both sides."

What does all this portend: what choice at the convention will Humphrey make if fortune puts it in his power? "Everything is still wide open," is the word from the Humphrey camp. But is it really altogether "wide open?"

JIM BISHOP: Reporter

The call came from Mary von Ahn, who has the perpetually cheerful tone of the doctor's secretary. She said that the annual examination was about due and when would I like to make it. The answer is never, but it is a thing that must be done, so I asked the lady to please set up the usual appointments and that I would spend a day being probed, punched and pictured.

BISHOP

Mary works for two doctors named Sheehan and Kelly. The front office is full of women and children and resembles a fifteen-minute bus stop at Dubuque. Mary beams, even when the little ones want to share their lollipops with her. She had a list of appointments for me and I started off with x-rays.

This meant no breakfast. I got into a tiny booth and removed my nice summer suit and donned a starched garment that looked like an apron made for a fat butcher. I was wearing only a pair of sox when Dr. Andrew Dedick took me into the x-ray room. His assistant, Mr. Joseph Marchese, handed me a glass of malted chalk and I drank on order.

There is nothing pleasant about the annual examination except, if you're lucky, the final report. Dr. Dedick knew the vital statistics about me: Age: 52. Height: 5'7. Weight: 160. Widower inclined to keep late hours. Doesn't drink. Smokes much too much. Seldom exercises, never walks when he can ride. No history or serious illness except suspected cardiac deficiency in 1950.

The doctor did the fluoroscopic examination, pressing the middle valve down and chatting about boating and fishing. Then Joe Marchese put me on the x-ray table, showed me how to turn halfway and draw the knees up, put out the lights, said: "Don't breathe. . . Breathe," a few times, and it was all over.

From there I went to the ear, nose and throat man, Dr. R. B. Robertson, a man with a big smile like a million dollars in pennies. Here too I found harassed mothers with whining children. Patients were beckoned through different doors and, when my turn came, I was taken to a booth with a lot of instruments and the doctor put his miner's headlight on and began an examination.

Little black disks went into the nostrils; a long spoon with a mirror went into the throat. The ears were looked into. A tiny lesion was found on the pharynx. Dr. Robertson said he was sure it was nothing of consequence, but to please come back in a month.

Negative, negative, negative—I heard the nice word all day. At last, I was back in Dr. Kelly's office. He's an internist and he made the final exhaustive examination. Again the summer suit came off, except that by now it was accordion-pleated. Chest examination, back examination, a few personal effronteries, on the scale, off, an electrocardiogram which showed no changes, and a discussion about incipient arthritis of two vertebrae in the neck which have managed to pinch a nerve between them.

The day had started at 10 a. m. At 4:40 p. m. Dr. Kelly told me that I could go home. It had been a long, tedious time, but I will not knock it because I believe that it should be done once a year after the age of 40, and twice a year from the age of 50 onward. Medical science is a fallible craft, and God still calls patients who have been certified to be in reasonably good health, but, as nearly as these men could guess, I checked out okay.

I drove home so happy and relaxed that I went through a red light dreaming. At the house, I spread the good word and I lectured my friend Chief Dundas on being overweight and to please watch that cough. Chief shook his head sadly. "Now that he's had his annual checkup," he said to the wall, "the rest of us will get nothing but abuse. Spare me the details, Mr. B."

Two days later, all the reports were in, and Mary von Ahn phoned and said that Dr. Kelly wanted me to know that everything was all right and to please use the pulleys and harness to stretch the neck. Also, would I please try to drop another eight pounds before the next visit?

The annual health kick is over. Except for a few minor aches and no sense, this little butterball is intact. I might become real brazen and smoke a cigarette with no filter at all. . .

St. Mary's Class Gives Program

NEW MONMOUTH—Mrs. Albert Hammond's kindergarten class of St. Mary's Catholic School recently presented its closing program of the year in the school auditorium.

The "Wedding of Jack and Jill" was the main theme, with Mother Goose rhymes, Little Boy Blue, Three Blind Mice, Three Little Pigs, Farmer in the Dell, Mistress Mary, Bo-Peep, Miss Muffet, Cat in the Fiddle, King Cole and Fiddlers, wooden soldiers, Yankee Doodles, Queen of May, and fairy princess introducing each scene. Raggedy Ann sang "True Love" and there were accordion and piano selections by several pupils. Mrs. Robert Ballweg accompanied at the piano.

State Board Of Education Picks Head

TRENTON (AP)—Mrs. Edward Katzenbach of Princeton has been elected president of the New Jersey state Board of Education for the fifth straight year.

The board announced yesterday that William A. Sutherland of Liberty Corner was re-elected vice president.

Mrs. Katzenbach, first elected president of the board in 1956, has served on it since 1921.

The board also announced it approved a request from the Columbia University School of Engineering to set up a laboratory at Industrial Reactor Laboratories, Inc., Plainsboro, and the Alpine Research Laboratories.

The board approved these appointments by Education Commissioner Frederick M. Raubinger:

John Cadigan of Matawan as assistant to the co-ordinator of the state college construction program. Cadigan has been working as a school salesman for a power tool firm.

George M. Maxwell of Montclair as assistant to the director of the state scholarship commission. Maxwell, who has been serving with the commissioner for several months, is former acting president of Jersey City Junior College.

Robert B. Rowen of Tucson, Ariz., as assistant director of special education. Rowen has been working as director of the Tucson Cerebral Palsy Foundation.

Miss Bonnie McHolme of New York University to succeed Miss Helen Borz as a helping teacher in Burlington County.

Joseph D. Clouser of Toms River to succeed Mrs. Margaret Franzone as a music helping teacher in Ocean County.

Phillip Cardino of New York University to succeed Miss Kathleen Eckhart as a helping teacher in Monmouth County.

HAL BOYLE

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Children are supposed to be a comfort to their mother in her old age.

It works the other way in our tribe. The older mother gets the more of a comfort she is to her daughter and four sons. We doubt if we could ever get along without her.

BOYLE

Mother will be 73 in September. Returning here for my first visit with her in more than a year, I was afraid of what time might have done to her in the interval.

The worry was needless. Time has snowed white hairs on her, and slowed her steps with rheumatism, but it has no power to curb her sprightly spirit.

"All that I've got wrong with me is old age—and that will keep," she said. Her only concession to the years is a cane. She really needs the cane now. She is only five feet tall, but she is about the same distance around.

"I keep telling the doctor I should take off some weight," she said placidly, "but he won't let me. He feels that if you're old and have learned to live with your weight, it's often better to let it alone."

Mother has had what might be called a hard life, but she never thinks of it that way. At 15 she lost her mother, and at 17 she emigrated here all by herself from her home in County Mayo, Ireland.

I think dad was making about $12 a week when they married. Five children came along, and she had to cook and mend and clean and do the laundry for us all.

Mother is proud of the fact that she never lost a child, and all are now more than 40 years old.

"That's a pretty good health record," she often says. "If your dad and I did nothing else for you, we brought you into this world with strong, healthy bodies. That means a lot."

"A large family is an agitation. That's what it is—a constant agitation. But it doesn't leave you any time for self-pity, and that's a good thing."

"But I worry about you children now more than ever. At least when you were small I knew where you all were."

When she was younger, mother had a fine Irish temper. When angered at something one of her brood had done, she would turn her eyes to the ceiling and loose a tide of eloquence that curled the bark on the elm tree outside the window.

But now she has mellowed into a serene philosopher.

"I have learned to live for today," she said. "That's the only thing to do—make the best of each day as it comes. You'll just break your heart if you try to live for yesterday or tomorrow."

Dad died back in 1937, but we still don't really think of him as dead. We talk of him as if he had merely gone into another room and might be back at any moment.

That attitude—plus mother's inborn courage—may explain why nearly 23 years of widowhood haven't soured her disposition.

"I was too busy to grieve," she said. "And I still am. Anyway, death is part of life, and you must accept what you can't avoid. Life is love and happiness and sorrow, and it does no good to complain against it."

On Memorial Day, surrounded by her family, mother went to dad's grave and brought him an armful of roses. She didn't cry at all.

"Dad would die laughing if he saw me with this," she said cheerfully, brandishing her cane. Then she put the flowers in a vase, we all said a prayer, and after a while turned to leave.

I took mother's hand and wrapped it around my arm to steady her path across the rolling turf. Independent as ever, she pulled her hand away and leaned more heavily on the cane.

"I don't need any help," she said. "I don't like to feel I'm a weight on anyone."

Third in Line
Pays the Fine

SHREWSBURY — The driver of the third car in a three-car rear-end chain crash April 30 was fined $15 Tuesday for following too closely.

John Hally, Jr., Pittsford, N. Y., was found guilty by Magistrate Whitney Crowell. His car struck the rear of an auto driven by Mrs. Jane Enright, Holland Rd., Middletown, on Rt. 35, which hit a car operated by Mark Permselaar, Perth Amboy. Mr. Permselaar was stopped at White St. preparing to make a turn when the accident occurred.

Charges against the other two drivers were dismissed.

Dumbrille's Marriage Was 26-Year-Old Prediction

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Patricia Mowbray was two, Douglas Dumbrille remarked, as fond family friends do: "When you grow up, I'm going to marry you."

Says Dumbrille today: "I'm probably the only man alive who carried out that remark."

A week ago, the veteran character actor married the daughter of his old friend, Alan Mowbray. The Las Vegas ceremony surprised the friends of both. It also drew more than usual attention from newspaper. He is 70, she is 28.

"Age doesn't mean a blasted thing," he comments. "The important thing is whether two people can be happy together. Pat and I agreed that I had some happy years left and we could best share them together. Happiness means everything in life."

Dumbrille is the smooth-looking gent who has played senators, lawyers, judges and tycoons in more movies than he can remember. Like the types he enacts, he is conservative, and he talked about his marriage with reluctance. He had just returned to his favorite hangout, the Masquers Club, where his fellow troupers greeted him with cries of "You're a brave man!" and "if you can do it, there's hope for an old gaffer like me." The actor sat in the lounge and explained: "Pat and I told no one about the wedding, except her parents, of course. Neither of us like conflict and dissension, so we decided not to raise any issue. To our surprise, the reaction of all our friends has been excellent."

He said he had known her father since before he married her mother and knew Pat as a child but seldom saw her in later years. Dumbrille himself had one of Hollywood's happiest marriages. He and his wife had been wed 47 years when she died three years ago. He was hard hit.

"I let myself fall into a stupid, sentimental rut," he admitted. "I just didn't care any more. Pat changed all that. She gave me a reason for living."

It was no sudden romance, he said. They became reacquainted two years ago and in the past six months saw each other almost constantly. They had been secretly engaged for three months.

"We both realized the risks involved," he said. "Right up to the time we were to face the minister, I told her, 'You can back out right now and there will be no questions asked.' But I'm happy to say she didn't."

"We never think of the difference in our ages. Pat is a very mature person, as she would be with parents like Alan and Lorraine. As our friend Gil Lamb says, 'Pat has been 40 for a long time.'"

They haven't decided where they will live, but Dumbrille vowed they would not have a big house such as he has lived in before. "We want a small place where we can turn the key and take off for someplace without worrying about it."

The father of two and grandfather of four, he keeps his 53-year acting career as busy as ever. He recently appeared with Bing Crosby in "High Time" and starred in a TV series, "Grand Jury."

He declined to cite his example for other widowed persons. "I don't want to get into anything saccharine like that," he said with an executive gruffness. "Everyone has to find his own happiness. We've found ours, and we don't give a continental damn what other people think."

On German Border Duty

U.S. FORCES, Germany — Army Pvt. Ronald Hanna, son of Edward Hanna, 39 Bellevue Ave. Leonardo, N. J., completed a month-long tour of duty May 28 patrolling the German-Czechoslovakian border with the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

Assigned to Company G of the regiment's Third Battalion, Hanna entered the Army in January 1959 and was last stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Albany (Ga.) High School.

Still Probing Car Bombings

ASBURY PARK — Police Chief Maurice Fitzgerald said Wednesday detectives are checking undisclosed "new leads" in the double auto explosion on Deal Lake Dr. April 28.

Victims of the early morning dynamiting were a Cadillac owned by Mrs. Doris DeGrad, 28, a mother of three, of 10 Deal Lake Ct., and a sports car owned by Ocean Grove school teacher Foster Diebold, 28, of 609 Fourth Ave. He was visiting at her apartment when the blast occurred.

MIDDLETOWN — Mrs. McThing by Mary Chase opened Wednesday night at the Wagon Wheel Playhouse, Rt. 35 and Chestnut St. The production will run through Saturday night and then for four nights—June 8-11.

Dairy Industry Future Bright

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, predicting a bright future for the dairy industry, said yesterday the "market for dairy products should grow faster in the 1960s than it has in the past."

Rockefeller, in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Holstein Friesian Association during the 1960s and the composition of the population would be favorable to dairymen.

The governor said "an almost 30 per cent faster increase" in the growth of the population will mean "an almost 30 per cent greater possible growth rate for the dairy industry."

He continued: "There will be a greater proportion of young people, who are bigger milk consumers than their seniors. Family incomes will rise too — and the evidence is that as people earn more, they consume more dairy products."

New Monmouth

Handicraft was displayed at the recent Amico Bible class meeting by Mrs. H. Laurence Scott, Jr., and Mrs. Donald Biggrove. Mrs. Howard Chamberlain had charge of the devotions. A committee was selected for the annual roll call supper to be held in the fall. Mrs. Milton Smith will entertain the committees chosen from the church organizations to plan a menu. A covered dish supper will be held with members of the Mary Elizabeth Sutphin Guild this month. Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Chester Hendricks, Sr., Mrs. Irvin Beaver, Mrs. Walter Junie and Mrs. Everett Casler.

"Indian Pow Wow" was the theme at a meeting of Cub Pack 144 of St. Mary's Catholic Church recently. A tepee was made by Kenneth Newman. Mrs. James Sullivan read a portion from "Hawatha" and led in group singing. The Cubs did Indian dances and played tom toms. Awards were presented to 24 boys. A picnic will be held June 11 in Allaire State Park.

Warning Can Mean Ticket

TRENTON (AP) — Attorney Gen. David D. Furman advised motorists this week that a state police warning citation can bring them a ticket.

For 18 months, state troopers have been handing out the written warnings for minor motor vehicle offenses which don't rate a ticket.

Furman announced that one past."

Mary Carter says: 'HALF THE BEST PAINT IN TOWN IS FREE!'

"... AND THE BEST OF THE REST IS MARY CARTER PAINT, TOO!"

"Only quality products, manufactured by long-established suppliers of materials to the protective coatings industry, go into the formulation of Mary Carter paints. When you buy any of my famous paints, enamels, or varnishes, you're getting the very best that money can buy and, at Mary Carter paint stores, you buy only half the paint you need . . .

"EVERY 2nd CAN IS FREE OF EXTRA COST!"

"My free paint and the Mary Carter paint you pay for are the same high quality paint — made with raw materials supplied to Mary Carter Paint Factories in New Jersey, Florida and Texas by these well-known companies:

Every 2nd Can FREE Of Extra Cost."

HOW IS THE FREE GALLON POSSIBLE? WHY NOT JUST CHARGE HALF PRICE?

"Because of my unique operational economies, I can manufacture top quality paints, enamels and varnishes at less cost and, in addition, I'm satisfied with a profit of pennies per gallon! Elimination of middlemen's profits with company and dealer-owned retail stores, modern paint factories streamlined merchandising methods, my own fleet of Diesel trucks to cut costs of obtaining raw materials and of shipping paint . . . all of these effect savings, which I pass on to you with every 2nd can of paint absolutely free of extra cost!"

"My paints are quality priced because they are quality paints! It would be easy to cut the price per gallon in half, instead of giving a 2nd can free with every one I sell, but I refuse to 'second rate' my paints by giving them an unrealistic, low price tag. I'll never classify Mary Carter paints with any of the cheap imitations being offered, nor will I ever downgrade my products by resorting to price reductions, discounts or special sales. I manufacture the same high quality paint for all my customers, at the same fair price for everyone."

Who in the world seals the bottom? Volkswagen.

Here's a side of the VW that few people know about: the underside. It is completely enclosed, and sealed with rubber to make it practically airtight. So tight, there are reports it will float! But here's a more useful advantage: a VW sloshes through water that brings most traffic to a standstill.

Notice how flat and smooth the VW bottom is. No hollow pockets and hanging parts to trap air and slow you down. Less drag. Better gas mileage.

On most cars, control wires and cables are left exposed. But you don't see wires under a VW; all you see is the steel bottom that protects them. A Volkswagen depreciates less than any other car because less can happen to it. Its shape remains the same; its works intact.

The Volkswagen's heater and defroster are part of the chassis, built into it and therefore included in our price: $1,565* top to bottom.

Weekly Food Review

By the Associated Press

Roast beef takes over the featured spot among special offerings by supermarkets and neighborhood stores this week-end.

Chuck and round roasts are the most widely advertised. But housewives will have ample opportunity for variety of choice among the week-end specials. Chicken and ham is widely featured. Other bargains include stewing beef, ground beef, pork loins, leg of lamb, turkey, fish cakes, cod steaks and scallops.

In the New York area, chuck roasts range from 39 to 49 cents a pound, round roasts are at 79 cents a pound and rib roasts at 89.

Meat prices generally are higher than a week ago. In various sections of the nation, sirloin steaks are up from four to 20 cents a pound, loin pork chops up from four to six cents and fryers up two to four cents.

An exception is rib roast, which is from unchanged to 10 cents below last week.

Egg prices are unchanged in the New York area, but down five cents a dozen in Washington, four cents in Boston and two cents in Chicago and Jacksonville, Fla.

Some tasty new arrivals hit the vegetable and fruit markets this week. They include raspberries and blackberries from California, onions from Arizona, radishes from Ohio and big Boston type lettuce from Orange County, N.Y.

There was a wide variety of "best buys" in vegetables—beans, beets, cabbage, Texas carrots, corn, all types of lettuce, escarole, onions, radishes, green Italian type squash, collards, kale, mustard, turnip tops, spinach and asparagus.

Rated good buys were broccoli, Florida celery, cucumbers, peppers, endive, rhubarb, potatoes and watercress.

On the expensive list are yellow squash, okra, tomatoes, parsley and sweet potatoes.

Best buys among fruits are strawberries, which are in big supply from New Jersey, and limes.

Avacados, lemons, California oranges and watermelons are good buys.

Costly items include plums, California and Georgia cantaloupes, California cherries and South Carolina peaches.

State Map Ready Soon

TRENTON —The New Jersey State Highway Department soon will be distributing its new official highway map and guide, says Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer.

The map, the first issued since 1955, is free and distribution will be made in approximately three weeks. In advance of its becoming available, the department will furnish detailed information as to how and where requests for copies should be made.

Pictures of the department's safety construction, including jughandles, creeper lanes and barrier curbs, plus color photos of many of the state's scenic and resort attractions are featured in the booklet form guide, rather than a single large sheet.

Card Party Next Tuesday

UNION BEACH — Plans for a card party Tuesday were made when the auxiliary of the American Legion post met. It will be held in the hall at 8 p.m. in charge of Mrs. Charles Herriger, Mrs. Jack Horner, Mrs. Raymond Coffey and Mrs. Anthony Nappi.

Mrs. Harry Breil, president, announced that geranium plants were purchased and planted in Memorial Park at each stone marking.

Mrs. Horner, chairman of the past presidents' dinner, to be held in the hall June 18, said John McGrogan will be master of ceremonies.

Victory Bridge Repair Bids Opened

TRENTON — State engineers are studying the offer of Allen M. Spooner & Son of New York City to repair the Rt. 35 Victory Bridge at Perth Amboy for $8,534.

The firm submitted the bid yesterday on a contract to replace the bridge fenders.

Crowning Ends Year For PTA

HIGHLANDS — The last meeting of the season for the Parent-Teacher Association of Our Lady of Perpetual Help School was held in the school hall. Rev. Joseph J. Donnelly, pastor, opened the meeting with a prayer.

The school entrance was decorated with a trellis of fern and flowers in honor of the month of May, "Mary's Month." Mrs. John Dempsey placed a crown of white flowers on statue of the Blessed Mother. Members sang "Bring Flowers of the Rarest." Mrs. Daniel Kelleher, Mrs. Vincent Gorman, Eugene McGough and James McGough were in charge of decorations. Mrs. Vincent J. Gorman, president, commended Sister Mary Veronica for accomplishments with the school children's choir. It was announced that the eighth grade went to New York City last week to see the award winning "Ben Hur." They also visited the Empire State building and Rockefeller Center.

Mrs. Gorman announced the following events: Bicycle Safety inspection, Friday and Saturday, first aid building; school picnic, Wednesday, June 15, school grounds; block dance, Wednesday, July 13, and bake sale, Sunday, Aug. 7, with Mrs. Michael Kovic and Mrs. Richard Perez as chairmen.

Class night for the eighth grade will be tomorrow, and commencement exercises Tuesday, June 14. The PTA offered to donate flowers for the altar at graduation.

Mrs. Hubert E. Ryan thanked everyone who contributed to the Community Center tag day. Proceeds will be used for gas and electric bills. The center is being used by many of the children.

Mrs. Harry Mahler, program chairman introduced Mrs. James T. Buckley, county PTA regent, who installed Mrs. George Lahey, president; Mrs. Michael Kovic, first vice president; Mrs. Joseph Bolger, second vice president; Mrs. Edward Horn, third vice president; Mrs. Richard Perez, treasurer; Mrs. James McGough, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James O'Keefe, recording secretary, and Mrs. Conrad Hall, historian.

Mrs. Lahey appointed class mothers and committees. She said the first grade-mother will be chosen in the fall. Others named were Mrs. George Armstrong, second; Mrs. George Amaro, third; Mrs. Gorman, fourth; Mr. Conrad Hall, fifth; Mrs. Walter Redmond, sixth; Mrs. Sal Giovenco, seventh, and Mrs. Ellis R. O'Keefe, eighth.

Committee aides are Mrs. William E. Kohlenbush, membership; Mrs. Michael Kovic, program; Mrs. Hubert E. Ryan, health; Mrs. Ruth Wood, sunshine; Mrs. James O'Keefe, merchandise; Mrs. Hall, publicity, and Mrs. Joseph Kanarkowski and Mrs. John Dempsey, refreshments.

The Chicago White Sox had a 13-9 edge over the Yankees in 1959. Billy Pierce won four times and Bob Shaw and Early Wynn three times each.

12 Complete JCP&L Course

ASBURY PARK — Twelve Monmouth County residents employed by Jersey Central Power and Light Company recently completed a company-sponsored course in the study of the transmission and distribution of electricity.

Conducted by Elmer M. Adkins, Asbury Park, JCP&L senior engineer, classes were held weekly in the utility's operating headquarters in Allenhurst. All those who took the course had previously completed a company sponsored course in simplified electricity. Both courses are offered under JCP&L's educational assistance plan. Employees taking the plan are reimbursed for 75 per cent of the cost of any educational course connected with their job.

County residents who have completed the transmission and distribution course are Robert P. Burchaell, Daniel J. Gorman and Rocco E. Martell, Neptune; Karl R. Ellis, Neptune City; Donald C. Conover, 84 Broad St., Freehold; Thomas J. Gannon, 1 Willis Pl., Keansburg; Edward F. Ruther, Fairfield Ave., Belford; John P. Gruitt, Bielle; David Marr, Spring Lake Heights; Roger H. ### Miss Fink Married In Bnai Israel Synagogue

RUMSON — In Congregation Bnai Israel Synagogue Sunday, beneath a canopy of pink and white peonies, Miss Barbara Joan Fink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Fink of Sycamore Ave., Shrewsbury, became the bride of Barry Michael Kotler, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Kotler, Highland Park, Rabbi Gilbert S. Rosenthal officiated. Cantor Sidney Scharf chanted the traditional blessings.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. Her gown of peau-de-soie was made with a sweetheart neckline and a bouffant skirt. The bodice and skirt of the gown were trimmed with an applique of Alencon lace which was re-embroidered in seed pearls and sequins. Her triple tier veil was attached to a lace cap, re-embroidered in seed pearls, and she carried a Bible covered with sprays of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Arthur Widmaier of Red Bank was matron of honor. Miss Susan Kotler, Highland Park, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor. Their cocktail length dresses were styled alike and made of lavender organza. Both had matching headpieces, and carried bouquets of lavender chrysanthemums, pink carnations and white daisies.

Nancy Alpern, Livingston, and Kimmie Noonan, New Shrewsbury, were the flower girls. Both had frocks of pink and white organza, and both carried baskets of pink peonies and rose petals.

Melvin Fink of Shrewsbury, the bride's brother, was best man. The ushers were Boris Kotler of Larchmont, N. Y., and Leonard Kotler, Highland Park, the bridegroom's cousins; George Rosenthal, Highland Park, and Bruce Arberter, New Brunswick.

The bride's mother wore a gown of lavender silk organza with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose pink lace. Both had corsages of orchids.

A reception and dinner followed in the synagogue's dining halls. Tables were set in pink linen, with centerpieces of pink and white carnations, lavender chrysanthemums and white snapdragons. Mel Arnold's orchestra played for dancing.

For her wedding trip to New York state, the bride wore a beige silk costume with matching accessories and a corsage of white orchids. The couple will live in Philadelphia.

The bride was graduated from Rumson High School and Harcum College in Bryn Mawr, Pa. She is a teacher at the Maysonville School at Mount Laurel.

Mr. Kotler is completing his junior year at Jefferson Medical College. He was graduated from Highland Park High School and Villanova University. He is a member of Phi Alpha Sigma fraternity.

Vassar Graduate

Mrs. Donald R. Akerblom

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y.—Mrs. Donald R. Akerblom, the former Priscilla Nielson of Little Silver, is a candidate to receive a bachelor of arts degree from Vassar College at its 96th commencement June 13. Mrs. Akerblom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Nielson of 11 Westwood Rd., Little Silver.

Mrs. Akerblom has concentrated her studies in German, and has been a member of the college German Club. She prepared investment firm on Linden Pl., Red Bank. The children attend St. James School, Red Bank.

Dear Kitty Kelly: I'm 13 and mature for my age. My parents won't let me go out with a boy 15 who has a good job working at the gas station. My parents criticize him because he can't talk English well. He was brought up in Mexico. I help him to read and write. He's doing good. ### Kitty Kelly:

He Wants Good Time, She Wants to Stay Home

Dear Kitty Kelly: When I was very young, I got mixed up with the wrong crowd and was put in a girls' home. There I learned to tell the truth. While on probation I got pregnant twice with the same boy. I didn't love him, but he was the only friend I had. When our kids were four and five, I met another boy whom I did love and who loved me. We got married and he took the kids.

Two months ago I found a girl's name and telephone number in his wallet. I put in a person-to-person call for him at her house that week-end. The girl said she expected him that night. He didn't come home so I called again next morning. She said he was asleep. I called back. He answered. We had a long talk about him and her. He likes to go out on the town and have fun. I don't like anything but to go to church and a movie once in awhile. I have only six loves—my kids (we now have five) and my husband. Shall I take the kids and go away? Please help me.—Miked Up.

Dear Mixed Up: Ask your minister to have a heart-to-heart talk with your husband. For the children's sake, as well as your own, you should remain together. Next time he wants to go out on the town, go with him!

Around Monmouth With Milli

By Mrs. Albert J. Hruska

Lt. Col. and Mrs. William R. McTernan of Woodbine Ave., Little Silver, will be hosts to Everett McTernans of Clermont, Fla., on their return from Amherst, Mass., where Everett is attending a reunion of the Amherst Class of 1915. On their way from Florida, Mr. and Mrs. McTernan spent a week at the guests of the Joel M. Johnsons of Circle Dr.

There was another "patch" telephone call from the Rolling Stone V Sunday afternoon. This time the call was received by Anne (Mrs. Philip J.) Bowers at her home in Fair Haven. Anne had arrived home from Charleston, S. C., only the day before, and almost didn't make it. She and Dick and Miriam Griffith of Navesink River Rd., Middletown, had so much motor trouble with the Bowers boat, the Edda III, on its trip up the Inland Waterway they had to leave the boat at Bay Head, for repairs. The Rolling Stone V was 350 miles southwest of Madeira on its way to Bermuda as of Sunday afternoon. They still had not picked up any trade winds. Without trade winds the going is slow and the Rolling Stone V and its seven men aboard are already a week behind schedule—will probably be late in arriving in Bermuda. Their original schedule called for dropping anchor in the Shrewsbury at Rumson on June 18 or 19.

Frankie (Mrs. Robert E.) Nagle of Sellers Way, Rumson, an exhibiting member of the Guild of Creative Art, has finished (not without incident); a portrait of little Jean Marie Klem, daughter of John and Leontine Klem.

More than the few people intimately involved in the work are relieved to see it hanging—at last—in all its lovely perfection above the living room fireplace in the Klem home on Bellevue Ave., Rumson.

The Shrewsbury River Yacht Club will have its first formal dinner dance of the season on Saturday, June 11, at the clubhouse on River Rd., Fair Haven. The dance is given in honor of the club's flag officers—Commodore George Perkins of West Orange, and Vice Commodore John O. Teeter, Rear Commodore Royal Gibson and Fleet Captain Anson Hoyt of Rumson.

Pete and Myra Norton have forsaken Rumson for a much larger home on Navesink River Rd., Middletown, and the Harold McCarthys also of Rumson are building a new and very beautiful house in Freehold.

Chestnut Hill Alumnae Schedules July 6 Party

SHREWSBURY — Monmouth County Chapter Chestnut Hill College Alumnae Association will hold its ninth annual fashion show and luncheon Wednesday, July 6, at 12:30 p. m. in Shadowbrook.

Fashions will be by Mark Fore and Strike of Little Silver.

Mrs. W. C. Foy of Spring Lake is chairman of this fund-raising event for the college building fund. Mrs. Frank Cummings of Fair Haven is fashion show chairman. This will be the first show the shop has given in Monmouth County.

Others assisting include Miss Katherine Gilligan and Mrs. E. H. Baker, Fair Haven, prizes; Mrs. Frank Jennings, Middletown and Mrs. James G. Hamm, Fair Haven, decorations and favors, and Ms. R. A. Hagen, Hazlet, reservations.

Mrs. Baker, chapter president, announced this week that the Chestnut Hill College Alumnae Association has received an award from the United States Steel Company for "distinguished achievement in the development of alumni support."

The award citation read in part: "For demonstrating the most significant improvement in one year, Chestnut Hill College won the $10,000 grand award. More than $50,000 was contributed to this small Catholic Women's college in Pennsylvania by more than half of its 2,375 alumnae. The objective was a memorial to the college's first dean and a president emerita, recently deceased. Above 30 per cent of the alumnae enlisted to do some form of volunteer service during the campaign period."

Entries were received from more than 300 institutions, and Chestnut Hill was one of the 54 to be so honored. The award was made at the recent 57th convention held by the National Catholic Education Association. This was accepted by the college president, Sister Catherine Frances, and the alumnae secretary, Miss Louise Bolger.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kooy

Exchange Vows In St. Joseph's

MATAWAN — Mrs. Sidney Longman of 21 Edgewater Dr. announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Bonnell V. Schuler, to Robert Kooy of Somerville, son of Mrs. Willem Timmers of Amsterdam, Holland, and the late Pieter Kooy, Saturday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church. The bride also is the daughter of Edward M. Schuler of Warren, Pa. Rev. John Hendricks officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with bouquets of all white gladioli and sweet peas. Miss Loretta Durante was the organist. A reception followed at The Paddock Lounge in Long Branch.

Escorted by her stepfather, Mr. Longman, the bride wore a full length gown of embroidered tulle styled with a basque bodice that had a Sabrina neckline. The skirt had a chapel length train, and the bride's veil fell from a headpiece of lace and tulle. Her cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis, had a white orchid as the center motif.

Mrs. Dominick Luccarelli of Keyport was her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. George Bender, Hazlet, and Mrs. Charles Chessick, Morgan.

All were dressed alike in gowns made with shirred silk organza bodices, and ballerina length matching headpieces of circular veils, and their variation bouquets matched their gowns, which were in rainbow colors of light blue, pink and lavender.

Sydney LeRoy of Freehold was best man. The ushers were Mr. Bender and Mr. Chessick.

The bride's mother was dressed in a pink lace sheath styled dress with a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of salmon colored silk with beige accessories, and a corsage of white orchids.

For her Southern wedding trip, the bride wore a royal blue and white silk costume with a small white hat, and a corsage of white orchids. Upon their return, the couple will live at 642 East Main St., Somerville.

The bride, a Matawan High School graduate, is employed by Jersey Central Power and Light Company as a secretary in the E. H. Werner station at South Amboy.

The bridegroom was educated in The Netherlands and served in the Dutch Army, and at the time of his discharge was a sergeant. He is employed by the Prudential Insurance Company at Somerville.

To Orate Wednesday In Contest

RED BANK—Miss Rita Murphy, Red Bank High School senior, and Larry Feinberg, Long Branch High School senior, were selected as two of eight finalists to participate for top state honors in the high school public speaking contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias lodge.

The winners, sponsored by the Long Branch chapter of the lodge, will vie with the six other state winners Wednesday in Jersey City, when the top winner will be selected.

Miss Rita Murphy

Miss Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Murphy of 56 Bank St., Red Bank, will enter Douglass College in the fall. Her subject for the contest was "Two Thousand A.D." She gave a resume of man's outstanding achievements of the 20th Century, and visualized conditions she thinks will exist in the 21st Century.

In 1958, Miss Murphy, as a member of the Red Bank High School chapter of the State Forensic League, won the national Forensic League District Tournament in dramatics. She also received the highest ratings for dramatic readings held for high school students at Temple University, and she placed third in a state poetry reading contest.

In high school she is a member of the Student Council; a member and secretary of the French International Relations Club; member and president of Mikado, Japanese language club, and a member and vice president of the Philosophy Club.

She also is a Girls State winner, and last June participated in this event at Douglass College under the sponsorship of the state American Legion auxiliaries.

First Grade Pupils to Give Program Wednesday in French

LITTLE SILVER — As a special course this year, children of the first grades in the Markham Place and Point Road Schools took French classes after school hours.

The teacher was Helene Pike of Eatontown. At 3:15 p. m. Wednesday in the Point Road School auditorium, Mrs. Pike will present her charges in a special program, all in French, to explain to parents the progress made by the children this year.

These youngsters have been learning French by conversational methods. Only French is spoken in the classes. Every two weeks, Mrs. Pike sends home bulletins to parents, explaining what the class has done and its accomplishments. Wednesday's program will be a combined presentation of the entire year.

The children will present monologues, songs and discuss their activities in their new language. In January, Mrs. Pike started giving special classes after school hours to the sixth graders in both schools. These children will also participate.

While the classes for the first graders was designed to teach the children conversational methods, the sixth graders concentrated on a study course designed to prepare them for French courses they will take when they enter high school.

Mrs. Pike says she has found her first grade classes a "most interesting and fascinating experience." She has taught French privately to children and adults, and in classes of high school and college groups.

She is the wife of Dr. Robert Pike, who is in charge of the language department at Monmouth College.

Through the school year, Mrs. Pike took several of her students to Monmouth College's language laboratories, where they studied tape recordings made of their class work, and saw the many facilities available for language students at the college.

A bunch of asparagus, usually weighing 2 or 2½ pounds, will make four generous servings when used as a vegetable to accompany a main dish or as a separate course with browned butter or hollandaise sauce.

Bridge Group Meets

RED BANK — The weekly session of the Red Bank Duplicate Bridge Association was held Wednesday in the Woman's Club, 164 Broad St. Eight tables were in play, under the direction of E. Grant Scheck, Allenhurst.

East-West winners were Mrs. Thomas E. Lonergan, Middletown, and Miss Margaret Michele, Atlantic Highlands, first; George Macomber, Fair Haven, and William Horlacher, Little Silver, second; Mrs. James Vandervort and Mrs. W. Stimpson Brown, Jr., both of Little Silver, third.

North-South winners were Mrs. Richard Barnett, Fair Haven, and Raymond J. Bradey, Little Silver, first; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Antliff, Little Silver, second; Mrs. I. William Lane and Bernard Natelson, Little Silver, third.

The next session will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Woman's Club.

Style Show By Scouts

FAIR HAVEN — Members of Girl Scout Troop 187 held court of award ceremonies and a style show Wednesday at Willow Street School auditorium. The style show was original. All the clothes shown were made by the members.

Styles ranged from Bermuda shorts to Capri pants for sportswear, sun dresses, party dresses, hats, gloves and hostess aprons.

Mr. William Lewin and Mrs. Frank Jose, leaders, presented insignia and proficiency badges to troop members. Receiving first class rank were Barbara Bonnem, Susan Horre, Jacqueline Jose, Kathy Leahy, Joanne Lewin, Janet Lewis, Patricia Miller, Nancy Peters and Kathryn Robbins.

Garden Club Closes Season

FAIR HAVEN — Mrs. Willard T. Somerville, Cooney Ter., was hostess at luncheon Tuesday to members of the Fair Haven Garden Club.

It was the closing meeting of the season, and new officers were installed.

Mrs. Michael Boss, retiring president, installed Mrs. William Legg, Rumson, president; Mrs. Charles Harken, vice president; Mrs. Edgar V. Denise, recording secretary; Mrs. Floyd Merlette, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Harold Dowstra, treasurer. Mrs. Ross was presented a past president's pin.

Mrs. Legg named the standing committees as follows: Mrs. W. F. Kennison, birds and conservation; Mrs. Arthur Giacobbe, exhibitors; Mrs. Frank Kenney, flower show; Mrs. Edward Balveve, Jr., horticulture; Mrs. Raymond Kennedy, hospitality; Mrs. John Anderson, program; Mrs. Charles Jahmig, Rumson, publicity; Mrs. Somerville, juniors; Mrs. Harold Lartaud, library; Mrs. Lawrence White, yearbook; and Mrs. Charles Kronlin, Rumson, telephone.

Mrs. Giacobbe conducted a tricky-tray. The opening meeting of the fall season will be held Sept. 7 in the parish house of the Holy Communion Episcopal Church.

Mrs. McLaughlin Given Stork Shower

UNION BEACH — Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin, Prospect Ave., Cliffwood, was honored at a stork shower last week given by Miss Janet McLaughlin, Cliffwood, Beach, and Mrs. Bernard McLaughlin, 1303 Wesley Ave., in the latter's home.

Miss Arzente attended Long Branch Schools and is employed at Monmouth Medical Center. Mr. Lloyd attended Red Bank schools. He is serving in the Navy aboard the USS Saratoga. An August wedding is planned.

Critic of critics was Disraeli who observed: "Critics are the men who have failed in literature and art."

Miss Joan Tulotta

BROOKLYN — Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tulotta of this city announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Joan V. Tulotta, to Robert W. Herndon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Hahn of 139 Park Rd., Fair Haven. The couple plan to be married July 10 in Brooklyn.

Miss Tulotta was graduated from Utrecht High School in Brooklyn and attended Niagara University and Hunter College. Mr. Herndon, a graduate of Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School, attended the University of Maryland in Germany, Monmouth College and St. John's University in Brooklyn. He is a senior at Niagara University.

Marlboro Auxiliary to Furnish, Decorate New Kitchen, Snack Bar

MARLBORO — The Marlboro Hospital Auxiliary has completed its newest project at the hospital: furnishing and decorating a new kitchen and snack bar in one of the hospital's parole cottages.

The new kitchen will be the center of the household science courses to be given twice weekly for six-week periods by Miss Martha Mumford of Long Branch.

Announcement of this was made when the auxiliary met this week in the hospital nurses' lounge. Miss Mumford will teach the patients how to prepare and serve food, plan balanced meals, and how to care for kitchen appliances and to do general house-keeping.

The new kitchen, complete with an electric range, refrigerator and stainless steel sinks, is decorated in a turquoise blue color scheme. The adjoining snack bar is furnished with gray black wrought iron cafe styled tables with matching chairs, upholstered in gold and white. Windows of both rooms are hung with gay printed draperies.

Mrs. Morton Winer of Red Bank, president, introduced the following new board members: Mrs. Harry Pujals, Rumson, membership and education; Mrs. Stanley Butkus, Long Branch, public relations; Mrs. Spencer Embree, Holmdel, patient service; Mrs. W. Laird Freeman, Freehold, Vanity Fair; William Cogan, Little Silver, Esquire Shop; Mrs. Mark McClain, Middletown, affiliate activities; Mrs. J. Berkeley Gordon, Marlboro, special projects; Mrs. Orion Whitaker, Long Branch, hospitality; Mrs. Robert Kompfer, Middletown, program; Mrs. William Rous, Fair Haven, ways and means, and Mrs. Harry Van Idernstine, Middletown, nominating.

Mr. Cogan said the Esquire Shop, which supplies extra clothing to men patients, needs men's shirts and trousers of all sizes. He said the volunteers serving in the shop try to give each patient leaving the hospital at the completion of treatment a complete outfit whenever possible. Patients receive this clothing at no cost.

Mrs. Embree said that in May, auxiliary members gave more than 900 hours of volunteer service to the hospital. The auxiliary program deals directly with the patients, and provides many extras which are not possible under a state budget.

The auxiliary will meet Wednesday, July 13, at Mrs. McCosker's home on Ward Ave., Rumson. This will be a roundtable discussion, with members of the auxiliary and the New Jersey Neuro-psychiatric Institute at Princeton participating. Those attending will bring a box lunch.

Monmouth College to Hold Homecoming Tomorrow

WEST LONG BRANCH — Monmouth College Alumnae Association will hold its first homecoming program tomorrow on the campus, starting at 7:30 p. m. Activities will include a tour of the campus, special exhibits, a fashion show by Franklin Simon of Monmouth Shopping Center and a hair style show by Hamilton Hair Dressers of Long Branch.

The tour will be conducted by members of Phi Delta Sigma and Alpha Theta Chi fraternities. Members of Tau Kappa Beta will present a skit from "West Side Story."

Displays will include copies of Monmouth Outlook from 1933 to 1960, arranged by the current Outlook editor, Robert Mount. Also, yearbooks from 1917 to 1960, arranged by Russell Vlockman, and an exhibit of Monmouth letters and awards won in college competitions, arranged by Leon Feldman and Margaret Horn.

The models for the fashion and hair style show will include faculty members Miss Elinor Tilford, Mrs. Leroy Juckett and Mrs. Kay Groff, and students Lydia Sterner, Barbara Mazza, Jean Youmans, Judy Holmes and Nancy Schaefer.

Walter Stephen heads the decorations committee, to be assisted by Ray Kiernan, Paul Brennan, Charles Bramhall, Vincent Palou and Robert Latta.

After 9:30 p. m., members and guests will leave for the West Long Branch Community Center where there will be dancing and refreshments.

The American Humane Assn. is trying to eliminate the steel jaw leg hold trap which has been used by the fur trapping industry since it was first introduced in England in the 1690s.

Coastaliers To Reorganize

Johnson Visiting State Today

NEWARK (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) follows the campaign trail to New Jersey today.

The Senate majority leader will meet with delegates to the Democratic National Convention and hold a news conference this afternoon. He is the fourth—and last—presidential hopeful scheduled for such a meeting.

New Jersey's 41 votes to the nominating convention are set for Gov. Robert B. Meyner on the first ballot as a "favorite son" candidate.

State Democratic leaders report strong sentiment for the nomination of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), who came here last month. Kennedy was preceded by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), who has since withdrawn from the race.

Johnson is scheduled to fly from Washington to Newark Airport, arriving at 3:30 p. m. His news conference will be held at 4 p. m. Johnson will meet the delegates at the Robert Treat Hotel reception from 5 to 6:30 p. m.

Party Held For First Communicant

HIGHLANDS — Marilyn Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Greene, Rogers St., was given a party by her parents in honor of her First Holy Communion, which she received Saturday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Greene and children Joseph and Barbara Anne, Mr. and Mrs. John Heenersack and daughters Gail and Lorrie, Mr. and Mrs. Leo McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frohnapel and sons Freddie, Kenny and Dennis, Miss Carol Dee and Mrs. P. J. Brady.

Also, Mrs. John Grasso and children, Janet, Linda and John, Mrs. William Hartsgraves, Mrs. Otto Ross, Mrs. Edwin B. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Greene and children, Joan, John, Patty, Walter and Marilyn, the celebrant.

WRONG CONVENTION CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — The master of ceremonies at a convention of the Wyoming Truckers' Association knows now he made a mistake when he asked the truckers to sing.

He asked all to join in on singing: "I've Been Working On the Railroad."

Licensed Practical Nurses Hear Priscilla Ransohoff

ATLANTIC CITY — Priscilla B. Ransohoff, doctor of education of Consultant Associates Corporation, Long Branch, delivered an address yesterday before the Licensed Practical Nurse Association of New Jersey at their annual convention here.

Her topic was "Leadership: The Prestige and Ability Involved." It emphasized that she believed that "the time has come for the practical nurses to develop leaders from their membership group and to give these leaders their wholehearted support and co-operation."

She suggested that the practical nurses continue to keep the goal in mind: "To provide the best possible care to patients." If this is done, she said, it becomes apparent that the working relationships between the members of the hospital team is of "vital importance and the process by which they function as a team is of equal importance to the skill and aptitude of each individual team member."

Dr. Ransohoff was guest of the executive director of the National association at the convention luncheon, and will be guest Education and Service will be of the Monmouth County group banquet speaker.

Red Bank Auxiliary of Riverview Hospital Ends Season With Luncheon

EATONTOWN — Red Bank Auxiliary of Riverview Hospital concluded its year at a luncheon and fashion show yesterday in Crystal Brook Inn for members and guests.

Mrs. John Husband was the chairman. The Ethel Krauss Shop of Sea Bright presented a collection of beach and casual wear.

Mrs. Thomas B. Ford, Jr., of Fair Haven, president, gave her annual progress report, listing activities the auxiliary staged to raise money for the hospital, and the volunteer services members give at the institution.

She also gave the auxiliary's check for $2,500 to Mrs. Catherine Dunham, assistant administrator of the hospital. This contribution was part of the $20,000 pledge the auxiliary has made to Riverview.

Mrs. Clifford F. Doring, chairman of the hospital's coffee shop, which the auxiliary maintains, said a profit of more than $3,000 has been earned.

She said the profits were used to purchase furniture for the hospital lobby and new accessories for the coffee shop and kitchen.

Missile Master Base Dedication Monday

MIDDLETOWN — The newly constructed $2½ million Missile Master Base here will be dedicated Monday by Maj. Gen. Parmer Edwards, deputy commander of the Army Air Defense Command.

An open house for the public is scheduled for Tuesday between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Tours of the new installation will be conducted every hour.

The missile master of the New York defense, is one of ten such multi-million dollar facilities being installed in areas of the United States.

Its purpose is to control and distribute the fires of Nike Ajax and Hercules missile batteries and discriminate between friendly and unfriendly targets with the speed and accuracy made possible by the wonders of electronic equipment.

The new 230-acre facility replaces a manual operations center at Fort Wadsworth, S. I., where headquarters, the 52d Artillery Brigade (Air Defense), allocated Monday by Maj. Gen. Parmer Edwards, deputy commander of the Army Air Defense Command.

The 52d Brigade, in addition to operating its missile master here, is the command headquarters of the more than 20 Nike Ajax and Hercules missile sites providing the Army Air Defense of the Metropolitan New York-New Jersey area.

These sites are in Long Island, Westchester County, along the Hudson River, and in the northern part of the state.

Another feature of the missile master, is its ability to exchange information with these nearby defenses as well as send and receive early warning information from the U. S. Air Force's Semi-Automatic Ground Environment (SAGE) system for the overall coordination of the air battle.

NEW DINER—The Shrewsbury Diner opened in new quarters yesterday at the Broad St.-Shrewsbury Ave. triangle. Its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rembert, Jr., of Sea Bright—shown with their son, Edward D. Rembert, left—were forced to vacate the diner at the foot of Newman Springs Rd. The state acquired that property for a jughandle in its Rt. 35 widening program in Shrewsbury.

Fort Now Has Patrol Boat in Use

FORT MONMOUTH — The newly acquired patrol boat was put into service by Fort Monmouth yesterday morning as the Army Transportation Corps vessel cruised in waters off the Sea Girt rifle range.

The new Q-boat, a 65-footer with a crew of six Army personnel, was obtained to police the impact area of a busy firing schedule from the rifle range by Fort Monmouth troops, National Guard and Army Reserve units. The range faces the ocean and sailing orders will have the boat patrolling some 3,000 yards offshore to protect small boats and fishing craft from entering the danger zone.

A gray and white ship flying the Army Transportation Corps flag, and number Q635, the Fort Monmouth boat is radar equipped, has ship-to-shore communications, and draws four feet of water.

It was built by the Weaver Shipyard in Orange, Tex., and has twin Diesel engines, each 240 horsepower. The boat has a speed of 14 knots.

LICENSE SUSPENSION REANSBURG — The Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control has ordered a 15-day suspension of the license of the Sea Play Inn, Beachway, for the period June 13 to June 28. The suspension is the result of the bar's violation of ABC regulation last September.

FTD Head To Address Florist Unit

MIDDLETOWN — Irving Allen, president of the Florists Telegraph Delivery Association, will address a meeting of Unit 14D — a local chapter of the group — at McGuire's Oaks, Rt. 35, Monday night.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the FTD network which provides a service whereby flowers can be sent to 188 countries in the world.

The organization — non profit — was formed in 1919 with 15 members. The membership in the group now totals 11,000 florists in this nation and 13,000 abroad.

The 14D unit represents member florists in the local area.

The FTD processes on an average of $60 million in flower requests each year.

Interflora — the international affiliate of the agency — was formed in 1946.

Holy Name Plans Dance

A Doctor in the House? Yes, a Quartet of Them

Drs. Donald and Lillian Hoops

RUMSON — If anyone drives down Bingham Ave. and asks "Is there a doctor in the house?" he is on the right street.

And he need go no further than the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harold J. Hoops, Sr., 172 Bingham Ave. For here he will find four doctors, and an interesting four doctors, too.

First, Dr. Hoops, Sr., a physician who has his practice in Jersey City; second, Dr. and Mrs. Hoops' son, Dr. Harold John Hoops, Jr., who is doing his residency in plastic surgery at the famed Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and then there are two more Dr. Hoops.

The last two mentioned are the newest "doctors in the house." They are Dr. Donald F. Hoops and his wife, Dr. Lillian Brady Hoops. Dr. Donald F. Hoops will be graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson's School of Dentistry tomorrow at commencement exercises on the school's Teaneck campus.

It will be the first class to be graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson's School of Dentistry. Dr. Hoops, the dentist, also is a graduate of Rutgers University, class of 1952. He is a member of Zeta Psi fraternity, and he will specialize in orthodontics.

Dr. Lillian Brady Hoops will be graduated from the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia June 14. Her field is ophthalmology (eye surgery). Both doctors will do their internships in their respective fields at Mountsinclair Hospital in Montclair.

Dr. Lillian Brady Hoops is the daughter of Mrs. Cecelia Brady of Staten Island. She was graduated valedictorian of Westleigh, S. I., High School, and started her college career at New Jersey College for Women, now Douglass College.

She was graduated from the Nursing School of Columbia Presbyterian Hospital, New York City, with a bachelor of science degree from Columbia University. She attended both Columbia and medical school on full scholarships.

Dr. Hoops, Sr., was graduated from New York University Bellevue Hospital Medical School. Dr. Hoops, Jr., was graduated from Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons.

said, they can not be duly registered in New Jersey. Preliminary examination, he said, indicates that they can not be used in exhibitions of driving skill or for races because they do not have the required safety features.

The prosecutor said this as W. Robert Warwick, county traffic coordinator, said increasing numbers of persons, minors and adults, are now purchasing or building such small vehicles. The probable intent, said Mr. Warwick, was to operate them on public streets and highways, in races or in exhibitions of driving skill on private properties.

The cars usually are powered with air cooled motors of the lawn mower type.

Out to Catch Bar Hoppers

FREEHOLD—Prosecutor Vincent P. Keuper today asked all municipal police departments to keep an eye out for tavern hoppers.

Hoppers are drinkers who try to get from one municipality where the bars close early to another where they are open longer in time to down a few extra drinks while the night is still alive.

Keeping people alive is the objective of the prosecutor. He asked the police to help prevent drunk driving by keeping the drinkers out of their cars. In warm weather, there are more hoppers than usual, he said.

The request to all departments went out after W. Robert Warwick, county traffic co-ordinator, said many complaints have reached him that tavern hoppers are mounting in number.

Hold Man For Jury

RED BANK—Robert D. Wilson, 33, of 28 Avenue of Two Rivers, Rumson, yesterday was ordered held in $200 bail for action of the grand jury on a charge of issuing a worthless check.

James F. Humphreys of Tolley's, 17 Broad St., charged Wilson wrote out a check for $30 on the Sea Bright National Bank March 18 and the bank reported the account was closed.

Wilson pleaded not guilty before Magistrate John V. Crowell. Mr. Humphreys told the magistrate that Mr. Wilson had made good on the check.

Charles Vaughan, 41, of 15 Cherry St., New Shrewsbury, was fined $25 for being drunk and disorderly Wednesday night on Earl St.

Mrs. Heyman Heads Hospital Department

Canada's Minister Is Here For Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Canada's Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker arrives in Washington today for a 21-hour state visit highlighted by an afternoon of private talks with President Eisenhower. With U.S.-Canadian relations in good repair these days, the two chiefs were expected to concentrate on common problems facing both countries because of the current international situation.

Round Valley Construction To Start

CLINTON (AP)—New Jersey is just about ready to start building its largest reservoir, Round Valley, a few miles southeast of this Hunterdon County community.

Exactly four years after Gov. Robert B. Meyner signed a bill to buy the long natural basin, about 100 lawmakers, newsmen, industrialists and water supply people toured the site yesterday.

On a beautifully sunny day, they clustered on top of a grassy hill and looked down into the valley as smoke flares marked three dam sites, and the line where 55 billion gallons of water will crest.

Two years ago, several dozen vacated homes dotted the check-board valley. Yesterday, there wasn't a building left standing. They have been razed, or moved. Bare places.

There were bare places where trees had been cut down for timber. Soon the rest of the trees and bushes will be removed.

George Shanklin, chief water engineer in the state Conservation Department, said the state only needs to relocate some roads and make further site studies before it can start awarding contracts.

In early 1961, he said, the engineers should be ready to start building a 75-foot high dike and two dams to plug low spots in the basin.

Vast Valley. The valley is so vast that it will take at least two years to fill it with Raritan River water pumped through twin pipelines from nearby Camden.

By 1964, he said, the state should be ready to start selling water and start liquidating a $45-, $50,000 bond issue.

Salvatore A. Bontempo, state conservation commissioner, told the group that Elizabethtown Water Company and North Jersey District Water Supply Commission are now investigating how to build a 30-million-dollar pipeline to deliver the water to Hudson, Essex, Union, and other counties.

Cabin Cruiser Sinks In Shrewsbury River

MONMOUTH BEACH—Coast Guard officials reported today that a 22-foot cabin cruiser sank early this morning in the Shrewsbury River near buoy 22.

The owner and two passengers were not injured. According to the Coast Guard, the craft owned by Woodrow G. Fields, 531 Central Ave., East Orange, struck some piles along the shore line which punched a nine-inch hole in the hull.

Mr. Fields sent up flares which were sighted by nearby residents who alerted the Coast Guard.

Officials said Mr. Field and the two passengers were found in the boat with life preservers on. The craft sank in about five feet of water.

The passengers were identified as Esmond Cassini, 410 Prospect St., and Miss Carol Matheson, 139 Halstead St., both of East Orange.

Long Last—A Contractor Pays Boro

NEW SHREWSBURY — For the first time within the memories of Mayor Karl Baron and members of council, this borough last night received a check for incomplete paving work which had been bonded.

Councilman Herbert L. Willett, 3d, announced receipt of $1,550 which covers work which was to be done by the Nervo Bros. Construction Co. on Pear St. The amount will be placed in escrow for that purpose.

Charles Hubbard of 63 Plum St., vice president of the Hance Park Civic Association, demanded that a finished date be named for the paving of Pear, Plum and Orchard sts., for which a contract has been let to Michael J. Stavola, Middletown contractor.

Mayor Baron directed that a letter be sent to Mr. Stavola, urging prompt completion of the work.

Mr. Hubbard also requested that a lot owned by the borough adjacent to the Apple St. playground be used for extension of that facility.

Bids for resurfacing roads within the borough will be received at its June 16 meeting.

Want County To Take Over Roads

NEW SHREWSBURY — Three resolutions aimed at obtaining county aid for this borough were adopted by the Mayor and Council at its meeting last night.

Two of them call for county acceptance of Swimming River Rd. from Sycamore Ave. to Newman Springs Rd. and all of Hance Ave.

The third, which Mayor Karl K. Baron said is designed to "put New Shrewsbury on the map," is a reiteration of the council's long-standing request that the borough's name be put on directional signs throughout the county.

The resolutions regarding the roads say the borough "will endeavor to secure the necessary right of way in the very few cases where we do not have the proper width."

The county requires the municipality to obtain 50-foot rights of way where widening is deemed necessary.

According to Councilman Herbert L. Willett, 3d, in most cases the rights of way have been obtained.

Swimming River Rd. runs between Atlantic Township and New Shrewsbury. There is only one property on the New Shrewsbury side for which the 25 feet from the road center has not been acquired.

Delay Action On Subdivision

OCEANPORT — Action on a subdivision request by Norman Mott, 13 Gooseneck Point Rd., was postponed by the Planning Board until its next meeting.

Mr. Mott was told he must notify neighbors within 200 feet of the lot to be subdivided. If the board approves the request, it will go to the Borough Council for final approval.

Williams Tells Contest Winners

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three New Jersey students have been selected to spend two weeks this summer working in the office of Sen. Harrison A. Williams (D-N. J.).

They were chosen by a panel of New Jersey newspaper executives on the basis of essays on "My Responsibility as a Citizen in Our Democracy."

Williams said yesterday more than 500 junior and senior high school students competed.

Williams will pay salaries and expenses of the winning students.

They are Richard A. Damers, 17, Franklin Lakes; Miriam Ann Fleck, Warren Township, and Richard Godsey, 16, Trenton.

New Deck Planned For Highlands Bridge

TRENTON — Bids for redecking of the Rt. 36 bridge at Highlands were received by the Highway Department Wednesday.

The Hughes Steel Erection Company, Philadelphia, submitted the low bid of $169,025. There were three other bids.

Work will not start until after Sept. 19, and must be completed by March 31, 1961.

New Jersey News Briefs

PRINCETON—A broken pipe toppled onto high tension lines and electrocuted two farm workers standing in ankle-deep muddy water yesterday. The men had been hoisting a 45-foot metal tube to a silo when the tube snapped 10 feet from its base. The falling pipe brought down two electric lines. The men died when they came into contact with the metal.

The victims were Richard May, 44, operator of his father's farm on North Post Rd. in nearby Lawrence Township, and a part-time helper, Leon Novatkoski, 50, of Rt. 1, Clarksville. Novatkoski's brother, Russell, who had been helping them lift the grain blowing tube, was not injured. May leaves a wife and three children. The other victim was a bachelor.

TRENTON—A funeral procession for retired Trenton fireman William T. Scales was on its way to St. Stanislaus Cemetery yesterday. As it drove past 634 Liberty St., a pallbearer in one of the cars saw smoke coming from the house. A man was throwing water on the burning house. The funeral procession stopped and six pallbearers, all firemen who served with Mr. Scales, got out. One turned in an alarm. The others took charge at the scene, and the occupants out of the house and calmed flustered residents. Three fire companies arrived quickly and put the blaze out in short order. The six pallbearers got back in the car and the funeral procession continued on its way to the cemetery.

TRENTON—The attorney general's office has ruled that restaurants and coffee shops in hotels are not covered by New Jersey's minimum wage law, even though they are not operated by the hotels. Deputy Attorney Gen. Stephen F. Lichtenstein said in a formal opinion for State Labor Commissioner Raymond F. Male that the minimum wage law exempts "employment in a hotel." He said the language is sweeping and applies to hotel restaurants run by concessionaires. New Jersey's minimum wage law applies only to women and people under 21. Ordinary restaurants are covered by it.

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Mayor Leo P. Carlin of Newark, N. J., told four Pennsylvania mayors yesterday to make a positive approach to a pending change in their cities form of government. Carlin said Newark expected troubles recently when it changed its form of government. But, he said, the anticipated troubles evaporated after the change. The Newark mayor spoke at a meeting with state officials and the mayors of four Pennsylvania cities which will change from the commission type of government to the strong mayor-council plan. He complimented the Pennsylvanians for having the foresight to start early in considering problems of the change-over. The change, recently authorized in each of the four cities, will go into effect in January of 1962.

TRENTON—New Jersey laws bar putting up race track stands like the one that collapsed at Indianapolis Speedway Memorial Day, killing two persons. Ned J. Parskeian, acting state motor vehicle director, said that all spectator seats at New Jersey race tracks must be inspected by local building inspectors. If there is no inspector, the race track must provide a certification from a recognized engineers or contractor that the stands have been properly built. New Jersey's 12 automobile race tracks are inspected periodically by state motor vehicle inspectors.

CLEMENTON — Rev. Thomas F. Kirk, 66, rector of St. Edward's Roman Catholic Church at nearby Pine Hill for the last seven years, died Wednesday night in the church rectory. Father Kirk, a native of Pottsville, Pa., was widely known in South Jersey. He served in numerous South Jersey parishes, including our Lady of Mount Carmel, Berlin, for 15 years.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) yesterday called for full public disclosure of all Congressional expense accounts. Referring to recent newspaper reports on House Committee expense vouchers, Case told the Senate, "We are faced with an unhappy situation about which we can no longer afford to be complacent." The public, he said, has come to regard all travel by a Congressional committee as a "junket." He added, "We have contributed to that attitude by permitting committee expenditures to be shrouded in secrecy and reported in such general and incomplete terms as to be virtually meaningless. Such an atmosphere of mystery cannot help but breed suspicion and contempt on the part of the public."

KEANSBURG — At a recent meeting of the VFW Auxiliary, plans were made for a rummage sale at 213 Main St., starting Monday, and continuing one week. Mrs. George Pelose is in charge.

Mrs. George Pelose and Mrs. Bernadette Van Hart were elected delegate and alternate, respectively, to the department encampment at Asbury Park June 22 through 25. Those elected as delegates to district six were Mrs. Pelose and Mrs. Van Hart, and Mrs. A. E. Ellefsen and Mrs. Catherine Jenny as alternates.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Francis Mebus, Mrs. H. G. Clickner, Mrs. A. E. Ellefsen, Mrs. Helen Newman, Mrs. Bernadette Van Hart, Mrs. Al Huwe, Mrs. Joseph Simon, Mrs. Catherine Jenny and Mrs. George Pelose, chaplain pro tem in the absence of Mrs. Martha Ruhman.

GIVING KNOWLEDGE—Mrs. Warren Young, left, president of the Independent Women's League of Keansburg, presents set of encyclopedias to Keansburg Library last night. Accepting the gift on behalf of the borough were Mayor James J. Gravany and Mrs. Harry Huber, Sr., right, Keansburg librarian.

True Value New Assessments to be Used

HOLMDEL — Starting Oct. 1, the township will use the true value assessment figures gained through a recent revaluation of the community.

According to John H. Mount, assessor, the Municipal Revaluations Inc., firm that conducted the revaluation of the township, should have the final figures soon.

He said officials of the firm would be ready in time for the Oct. 1 tax billings.

Strike Average

Mr. Mount said he would not use a 100 per cent ratio in computing the new bills.

"I will probably strike an average of the ratios used through out the county and use that figure in determining tax bills," he added.

He estimated the county average at between 25 to 30 per cent.

Public Hearings

"I will not use a 100 per cent ratio until all the municipalities in the county do."

Before the new assessment figures are used, the township must conduct public hearings on the figures.

Mr. Mount said that to his knowledge no date has been set for the hearings.

He said the hearing probably would be scheduled after the final figures are ready.

Meantime, the Elks have been notified by national headquarters in Chicago of the Middletown lodge number—also 2179.

On top of that, it has been announced that the next Elks lodge number—2180—which might have gone to a unit in any of the 50 states—has been assigned to a new Elks group being formed in Jamesburg.

The local lodge will be instituted formally at ceremonies tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Something In Common For Groups

MIDDLETOWN — It wasn't done by design—but two local organizations appear to be playing the numbers game.

The newly-formed Middletown Elks Lodge has received permission to use the Veterans of Foreign Wars building, Rt. 35, as its temporary headquarters.

Milk Machine Thefts Solved

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Acting Police Chief J. Edgar Wilkinson reported yesterday that Madison Township police have rounded up three Matawan Township juveniles responsible for a recent wave of milk machine thefts, both here and in Madison.

He said the boys, 14 and 15 years of age, are from Cliffwood.

They admitted breaking into several machines and taking the coin boxes from them, he said. One machine, on Matawan Ave., was broken into three times.

Mr. Wilkinson said the boys used the money mostly to play pinball machines.

A Juvenile Court hearing will be scheduled he reported.

Charter Fete Set By New Jaycee Unit

MIDDLETOWN — The newly-formed Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its charter night dinner dance and installation of officers tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Cabin in the Sky, Scenic Dr., Atlantic Highlands.

Paul Cohen, state vice president of the jaycees will install the new officers of the group while Joseph Farrell, national director of the state Jaycees, will present the charter to the organization.

Guest speaker at the affair will be Robert D. Viscount.

Active in the Jaycee organization in Red Bank, Mr. Viscount is resident manager of Spear, Leads and Kellogg, a member of the New York and American Stock Exchange.

He has held offices on the local and state levels of the organization.

Married and the father of two children, he resides in Little Silver.

Shift Time Of Graduation

RED BANK — William Pazicky, River Street School principal, yesterday announced that the eighth grade graduation June 15 will be held at 8 p. m. instead of 2 p. m.

The action is a compromise on a request at Tuesday night's Board of Education meeting to change the location of the graduation.

The ceremony will be held in the River Street School auditorium. It was postponed Tuesday by Leon F. Rosenfeld, 3 Brown Pl., that the auditorium becomes uncomfortably hot during the graduation.

Mr. Pazicky and Dr. M. Gregg Hibbs, superintendent of schools, unannouncedly yesterday that scheduling difficulties rule out changing the location at this date.

The night graduation, however, may make it possible for more parents to attend.

Rockefeller Trip GOP Highlight

By The Associated Press

Sen. John F. Kennedy's endorsement by Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams held the center of the political stage today, but a Midwest foray by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York seemed likely to draw the limelight back toward the Republicans.

Williams, who heads a 51-vote convention delegation, announced his support of Kennedy yesterday after a cordial chat with the Massachusetts Presidential contender at Mackinac Island.

Williams' action does not bind the Michigan delegation, but seems likely to swing it solidly into Kennedy's corner.

Not counting the 51 Michigan votes, an unofficial Associated Press tally gave Kennedy 334½ committed convention votes, out of the 761 needed for nomination.

Rockefeller flies to Fargo, N.D., today to start two days of farm belt stumping for Gov. John E. Davis, republican candidate for the Senate in a special June 28 election.

Favor County Plans For Park Site

MIDDLETOWN — Mayor John T. Lawley, Jr. said yesterday he feels the township would be in favor of the county taking over a government owned 60-acre tract in the Lincroft area for park and recreation purposes.

Last week the township was informed that the General Services Administration wants to dispose of the tract—used as a training area at Fort Monmouth. Township officials have expressed an interest in the land.

County Interested

Wednesday, however, the County Board of Freeholders announced that the government agency had offered the site to the County Parks and Recreation Committee for recreation purposes.

The freeholders said they were interested in the proposal.

Local Army officials are not sure where the land is except that it is between Swimming River and Lincroft.

Mayor Lawley said the township would not compete with the county for the land.

He said the county would be in a more favorable position to develop the area as a park site than would be the township.

Acquit Man On Charge Of Assault

FREEHOLD — Donald Walker, 64, of 19 Central Ave., Red Bank, was acquitted on a directed verdict by county Judge John C. Giordano yesterday of a charge of atrocious assault and battery with a shotgun on his wife, Isobell.

The acquittal came on a motion by Mr. Walker's attorney, Albert T. Berich, Red Bank, who claimed there was no proof of maiming or striking.

Ran From House

According to Assistant Prosecutor John A. Pettilo, Mr. Walker had fired at his wife on Feb. 21 as she ran from the house and the shot tore her dress and sweater.

Judge Giordano said there was not enough evidence to convict on the atrocious assault and battery charge—but directed the prosecutor to inquire into the complaint in Magistrate's Court on a disorderly persons charge, since the statute of limitations has not expired.

EYE OPENER

ATTICA, Iowa (AP)—When the principal speaker at the Attica High School commencement exercises finished his address, a girls' chorus sang: "Sleepers, Awake."

Backs Stevenson

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), who bowed out of the Presidential sweepstakes after Kennedy's victory in the West Virginia primary, made clear yesterday his Presidential choice now is Adlai Stevenson.

In a telegram to Stevenson, Humphrey praised him for his speech in Chicago this week setting forth a five point "grand strategy for peace." Humphrey added:

"When are you going to make a direct move for the nomination? Many people are waiting."

Stevenson has made no overt effort to get the nomination he had twice before, but remains available for a draft.

Another Democratic aspirant, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, said yesterday at Fresno, Calif., that Stevenson is "beginning to act like a candidate" in his recent statements and speeches on foreign affairs.

Symington wound up a four day expedition into California, where he and other Democrats have been prospecting for support in the state's 81-vote delegation. Gov. Edmund G. Brown is California's favorite son candidate, and so far has avoided leaping one way or the other among the major candidates.

Symington said he has a lot of support in the California delegation and is optimistic about his chances against Kennedy and Johnson.

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.)

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), who regards Johnson as his top rival for the Presidential nomination, reiterated at a Chicago news conference his criticism of the timing of the flight and of the contradictory statements issued by the administration about it.

Senate Debate

However, in a statement pledging his support to Kennedy for the nomination, Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams took occasion to refer to the "debacle at the summit" and to praise Kennedy's toughness.

With Kennedy as president, Williams said there would be "no more summit called by De Gaulle, on a plan worked out conference by MacMillan, with pre-summit that he might find a new U.S. Administration more tractable."

Arrogant Donald

The Senate Democratic leader, one of the candidates for his party's Presidential nomination, said in New York that Kennedy's letter "sounded conclusory and hopeful about the prospects for renewed negotiations."

Khrushchev's GOP Gift

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may have handed Republicans a political gift by saying the present U.S. government doesn't want to improve relations with Russia.

But some Democrats were quick to challenge his criticism of President Eisenhower and his implication that Russia might be better able to deal with a different government.

Khrushchev said in a letter Democratic leaders made public yesterday that the Eisenhower administration follows a "doctrine of aggression and provocation" which "was not created by the American people."

Not many Americans are likely to agree with Khrushchev's charges of aggression and provocation. Politicians generally believe the voters' instinctive reaction will be to rally behind a President they think is being maligned far beyond anything justified by any mistakes he may have made.

How much this sort of feeling can be transferred to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the expected GOP Presidential nominee, remains to be seen.

But Nixon already has taken steps aimed at identifying himself as the man best equipped to stand up to Khrushchev in the international struggle that has abated.

This represents something of a quick shift from the Republican pre-summit position that the President—and his heir apparent qualified by experience to lead the Free World toward some satisfactory accommodation with the Soviet.

Since the summit collapse any course of this kind involves the risk of being labeled as appeasement, an ugly word with which neither party wants to be tagged.

Democrats such as Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas have shown their awareness of what Khrushchev's references to his dislike for "the present government of the U.S.A." might do to them if left unchallenged.

He told the Senate yesterday that Khrushchev was trying to divide the American people, but wouldn't be able to do it.

Johnson was one of the leaders to whom Khrushchev addressed his letter. It was in reply to a cable which Johnson, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), Adlai Stevenson and Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee sent May 17 to President Eisenhower in Paris for relay to the Soviet leader. In it they cautioned Khrushchev not to sink the Paris conference because of any hope he might find a new U.S. Administration more tractable.

Arrogant Donald

The Senate Democratic leader, one of the candidates for his party's Presidential nomination, said in New York that Kennedy's letter "sounded conclusory and hopeful about the prospects for renewed negotiations."

Johnson told the Senate that the Free World was "ready to negotiate on the issues of life and death" but that Khrushchev had torpedoed the conference.

The Texas senator said that "no one can seriously believe that the U2 plane incident—a byproduct of the cold war—was sufficient alibi for refusing to discuss the basic issues of the Cold war itself."

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), who regards Johnson as his top rival for the Presidential nomination, reiterated at a Chicago news conference his criticism of the timing of the flight and of the contradictory statements issued by the administration about it.

However, in a statement pledging his support to Kennedy for the nomination, Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams took occasion to refer to the "debacle at the summit" and to praise Kennedy's toughness.

Shows to Watch

TONIGHT
8:30 — (Ch. 4) — The Sacco-Vanzetti Story—(Choice Viewing) — First of a two-part drama based on a famous case in the 1920s. Newsman Ben Grauer narrates the trial of a shoemaker and fishpeddler accused of a payroll robbery and murder. E. G. Marshall, Robert Emhardt, House Jameson and Stuart Germain play prominent roles. Martin Balsam and Steven Hill star as Sacco and Vanzetti respectively. The trial drew international recognition because of the then Red scare in America following the Russian revolution. A top production team is doing the two-part.

7:30 — (Ch. 2) — Rawhide — An escaped convict, hunted by a posse, finds a little girl, apparently a deaf mute, amid the charred remains of a desert encampment in "Incident of the Silent Web." He changes clothes with the child's dead father and then joins the Sedalia-bound cattle drive. Some of these are factual, making the series a cut above the norm.

9:00 — (Ch. 2) — Lucy-Desi Show — Repeating the Milton Berle guest spot in which Lucy tries to get Uncle Miltie to head her PTA benefit show. She invites him to finish his book at her home. Of course, Desi didn't know about it. In view of what's happened to Lucy and Desi in real life, the laughter here has a hollow ring to it.

10:00 — (Ch. 2) — The Twilight Zone — Bit of time casting has Orson Bean as a daydreaming eccentric who drives a 1924 Rick enbacker, loves zither music and keeps stuffed owls on his desk. A visit from his guardian angel changes his personality. A Red Serling production.

TOMORROW
8:30 — (Ch. 4) — World Wide 60 — (Choice Viewing) — There are other international problems besides disarmament, U-2 flights and atomic control. One of them will be examined here. It's drug addiction, a major problem in human suffering which channels millions of dollars yearly into the pockets of international racketeers. Program shows now a unified approach to this problem prevented by widely divergent points of view among legislators, jurists and members of the medical profession.

7:30 — (Ch. 2) — Perry Mason — The shuffling continues as one week it's a new film, then a rerun. "The Case of the Baited Hook" is a repeater and is about a case of blackmail that continues for more than 20 years and finally explodes into murder. The regulars — Raymond Burr, Barbara Hale, William Hopper and Ray Collins — are in this July 12, 1958 film. But among the missing is Bill Talman.

9:00 — (Ch. 4) — The Deputy — Henry Fonda, as Marshal Simon Fray, appears almost impervious to any failings, yet here he allows himself to be kidnapped. But knowing how he always trying to get Clay McCord to pin on the deputy's badge, you could guess. McCord's sense of hearing plays an important role in tonight's film. Standard oater.

9:00 — (Ch. 2) — Mr. Lucky — When two Fascist hatemongers use the Fortuna to smuggle themselves into the U. S., Lucky's suspicions about their identities lead him into a death trap. Boxing fans must like the series. There's a fight every week involving Lucky and Andamo — at least it seems that way.

James Gets Ring From Troop 88

PORT MONMOUTH — Boy Scout Troop 88, at a recent meeting in the fire house, presented William James, committeeman, a scout leader's ring for his years of work with the troop. Mr. James is leaving for Germany shortly.

Mr. R. G. Brady, assistant, also was presented a ring.

Ralph Sica was in charge of the opening ceremonies, and a court of honor was conducted.

Dennis Giles and Charles James received life pins and they in turn presented their mothers miniature life pins and corsages. William James received a star pin.

Merit badges were given as follows: John D'Ulisse, Paul Nunez, Robert Kaiser, Thomas Eaves, John Burns, Richard Johnson, Willard Sanders, Dennis Giles, Charles James, Jeff Brady, Mark Thalheimer, William James, Raymond St. John, Richard Johnson, Donald Mackenn, John Burn, and Stephen Darby.

Second class scout badges were given to James Rathburn, Carmen Tantella and Robert Runge; first class badges, John D'Ulisse and Richard Johnson.

A new tenderfoot was welcomed, Joseph O'Donnell.

A one-year pin was awarded to William James, Glenn Scott and John Burns.

John R. Hopley is scoutmaster of the troop.

The troop is planning to participate in the Monmouth Council Golden Jubilee Scout Show to be held at Monmouth Park race track.

BACHELOR FATHER'S DAY — The bride path beckons actor John Forsythe who beams at the thoughtfulness of his real-life daughters, Page and Brook (6 and 8, respectively.) He is the star of NBC-TV Network's "Bachelor Father" situation comedy series Thursday nights as a bachelor bringing up a teenage niece. Forsythe's wife is former actress Julie Warren.

Music Attracts Worshippers

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The altar boy walked down the aisle with lighted taper, faintly self-conscious as altar boys are. As he lit the candles, the trumpets played a mellow riff.

The minister and congregation recited the general confession and the oboe and flute counterpointed, joined by thumping brass.

"O Come, Let Us Sing Unto the Lord," said the pastor. The bass viol pulsed rhythmically and the saxes moaned as the choir replied: "Let Us Heartily Rejoice in the Strength of Our Salvation."

As the offertory was made, a soprano sang notes to a George Shearing-like background, ending with a climax of harmony and the words: "When You Learn to Love One Another, You Have Touched the Hand of God."

After the sermon, the minister and choir exited and the altar boy returned to snuff the candles. The cymbals beat out the rhythm as the combo came to a rousing climax of brass and reed.

This was "an experiment in divine worship" conducted by the Rev. Lawrence A. Hinshaw, pastor. Judging from the reaction of the San Fernando Valley congregation, the experimental style by the combo—were sung lustily. There was no applause for the numbers, despite crashing climaxes.

The reaction of this worshiper: Not bad. The modern feel of the music seemed to give an even greater urgency to the religious message.

Commented Rev. Mr. Hinshaw: "It is essential for the church to function in an atmosphere that is compatible with modern expression."

Rebecca is the Hebrew female name for a peace-maker.

VIEWING TV

With HAL HUMPHREY

A Challenge Found

HOLLYWOOD — Seelig Lester, the new producer of TV's Perry Mason," says he took the job because he was looking for a challenge. Well, he found it all right. At the moment, Lester isn't sure where his next script is coming from, or even if he will have a D.A. to write into it.

The Hollywood writers were still on strike early this week, a fact which was causing every TV producer to get tense. Ending of the strike right now would give most TV film studios barely time to have enough episodes shot and in the can for a new start in September.

In addition to this sweat, Lester is waiting to find out if District Attorney J. Hamilton Burger in the person of actor Bill Talman is or isn't a member of the cast.

Talman, who for three seasons has played the losing D.A. to the shrewd Perry Mason (Ray Burr), was arrested at a "wild party" in March and charged on a lewd vagrancy count. At a court hearing he pleaded not guilty, and his trial is set for July 13. CBS, which is a partner in the series, announced that Talman was being replaced.

Since then, however, the viewers have spoken, and so has Perry.

"At last count I believe there were over 2,300 pieces of mail on Talman's being dropped," says Lester. "Some of it was the 'good riddance' type, but a lot of it said he should be given another chance."

"If Talman is found innocent of the charges, I think he might get back on the show. If he doesn't, there still will be no new D.A. We will use trial attorneys out of the D.A.'s office."

Ray Burr, the redoubtable Perry, came to Talman's side with a statement which said among other things that "I feel very strongly that the incident has been magnified all out of proportion."

In the episodes Lester wrote, he endeavored to put more emphasis on the crime itself and on luring the viewers into trying to deduce "whodunit?"

To further break away from too much formulaizing, Lester hopes next season to take his cast and crew to Hawaii for a couple of episodes.

Lester's influence certainly hasn't done "Perry Mason" any harm. The series' audience rating hit new highs this season, until the network ran in a flock of repeat shows (sans Talman, after the latter ran afoul of the police).

If Lester can get his D.A. off the hook and end the writers' strike — he'll be in business as a producer.

MARGO MOORE and Ernie Kovacs in "Wake Me When It's Over" starting Sunday at the Shore Drive-In Theatre, Routes 33 and 34, Collingwood Circle.

COMPETE SUNDAY UNION BEACH — The Fireman's Junior Drum and Bugle Corps will participate Sunday in the "Musical Wonderama" competition in Woodbridge High School Stadium at 2 p.m. It is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Scholarship For Lapin

RED BANK — Ronny Lapin, 19, of 88 Wallace St., a senior at Red Bank High School, will receive the Joseph Finkel Lodge-Bnai B'rith annual $300 scholarship award tomorrow.

Mr. Lapin, who was born in Tel Aviv, Israel, came to this country last September. He stands 4th in the senior class of 277 students. He is the son of Maj. and Mrs. Peter J. Blumenthal, Major Blumenthal is stationed at Fort Monmouth.

Mr. Lapin will enter Monmouth College in September in pre-medical courses.

The scholarship will be presented at a dinner at 7:30 p.m. in Joseph's Restaurant.

Officers of the lodge also will be installed at the dinner by Milton Arthur, an organizer and past president of the lodge.

Isaac Abramovitz will present a plaque to Irving M. Teicher, outgoing president.

The new officers are Harry Berger, president; Eugene Moss, first vice president; Gerald Kaplan, 3d, second vice president; Sidney Solden, third vice president; Tuly Reiter, monitor; Martin Epstein, treasurer; Murray Forman, financial secretary; Milton Tenzer, recording secretary, and Col. Reuben Abramovitz, Isaac L. Abramovitz, Abe C. Altberg, Isidor Horowitz, George Jacobson, Dr. Nathan Tanenbaum and Abe Yellen, trustees.

Rabbi Aaron Leikowitz of Temple Beth Miriam will give the invocation and Rabbi Alexander Graubart of Congregation Bnai Shalom will give the benediction.

Miss Thelma Lee will present an entertainment program following the installation.

Manasquan Eliminated From Shore Conference

Freehold Defeats Big Blue, 8-6; Title Game Slated Today

LONG BRANCH — The Shore Conference A Division down to the wire race for the baseball championship came one length closer yesterday when Freehold High School eliminated Manasquan, 8-6, in a free hitting ball game on the Long Branch High School field.

What was supposed to have been a game with pitchers' battle in the making was just the opposite, with hitters smacking the horsehide quite freely. Manasquan jumped on Freehold's two top choppers for 11 hits, while Freehold tagged out five hits off Manasquan's top trio of Larry Gadsby, Brian Clancy, and Henry Schwiier.

The game broke the three-way tie for first place in the circuit and made way for the final game today at Long Branch. Asbury Park drew a bye and will meet Freehold for the championship. The three teams ended the regular season with 8-4 records.

Number of Entrants Low In Jr. Chamber Tennis

RED BANK — Entries close today for the 1960 Red Bank Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament to be held Monday through Friday on Marine Park Courts. So far, the number of entrants are far fewer than in last year's tournament.

enough coming along from the boys' division to fill the vacant positions. Although this year's tournament may be smaller than last year's, the competition promises to be much closer.

Freehold Takes Lead
Freehold took the early lead, 3-0, then trailed after four innings, 6-3. The Big Blue then put the game on ice with five runs in the fifth inning.

There are 14 in the junior division, which includes youths of 18 or younger. There are only six in the boys' division, which takes in an age group of 15 or younger. Entries are available by contacting Harold Potter, superintendent of Marine Park Tennis Courts.

Dennis Lynch, who won the junior division last year, is no longer eligible. The battle for the title in this division is expected to be between Larry Brogden, Richard Nicoletti, William Schouley, Dick Zoldac and Wag Merrill, winner of the boys' division last year. Nicoletti must be given a slight edge, based on the fact that he was runner-up last year. In the boys' division, John Emery, Larry Nelson, and Richard Gaines all have an equal chance to emerge the winner.

Don Rooney started on the hill for the Colonials, but needed help from Ed Henderson after 3½ innings. He fanned four, walked three and gave up six hits. Henderson had the same number of strikeouts, but didn't give out a single walk. He was tapped for five hits in the 3½ innings he worked.

Dodgers Slide to 6th Place; Giants Lose to Cards, 4-3

Associated Press

Can the Los Angeles Dodgers, who rocketed from seventh place to the World Championship, now be headed for a flop from the top back to seventh? Only one National League club has suffered such a collapse—the 1917 Dodgers, the old Brooklyn bunch.

Kansas City, 7-6, and Chicago's third place White Sox lost, 4-3, at Detroit. Washington moved from eighth to seventh in a switch with Boston, beating the Red Sox, 8-3, and 8-7, in 10 innings in a doubleheader.

Every club but the White Sox chipped in on an 18-home run total that tied an AL record for five games set in 1933. And 12 homers in the NL matched the two-league, eight-game high of 30 set in 1950.

Howard Gerken walked to load the bases. After Rooney and Kane were out, Drusne got the two runs over the plate for a 3-0 Freehold lead.

The Cubs and Dodgers clouted half of the NL's dozen, Frank Thomas belted his ninth with two on in a five-run first inning against Don Drysdale (4-6) who now has lost five of his last six. Ernie Banks hit his 11th and Bob Will his third, both solo shots.

A tie-breaking home run in the seventh inning by Joe Cunningham, his first, beat the Giants. Southpaw Billy O'Dell, was the loser for a 2-5 record. Larry Jackson (6-5) gave up 11 hits, one Willie McCovey's 10th home run, but won his fifth in a row while beating the Giants a third time this season.

Milwaukee clung to third place by beating the last place Phillies, 9-8.

The Cubs and Dodgers clouted half of the NL's dozen, Frank Thomas belted his ninth with two on in a five-run first inning against Don Drysdale (4-6) who now has lost five of his last six. Ernie Banks hit his 11th and Bob Will his third, both solo shots.

A tie-breaking home run in the seventh inning by Joe Cunningham, his first, beat the Giants. Southpaw Billy O'Dell, was the loser for a 2-5 record. Larry Jackson (6-5) gave up 11 hits, one Willie McCovey's 10th home run, but won his fifth in a row while beating the Giants a third time this season.

In the American League, Baltimore retained a 2½-game edge by beating New York, 6-5. Second place Cleveland defeated

Don Cardwell (3-4) beat the Dodgers for only the second time in nine career decisions. Home runs by Don Demeter and Charlie Neal chased Cardwell in a time this season.

Dick Stigman Is Stopper For Cleveland; Birds Win

Associated Press

A year ago Dick Stigman was a 17-game loser in the minors. Now he's Cleveland's relief ace, a southpaw stopper who has kept the Indians close to Baltimore in that American League pennant race.

AMOS AND ANDY IN THEIR FINANCIAL matters reaching four million, five million and so on up the line, have nothing on race tracks in these times. Earlier in the week it was Aqueduct in New York, going over 5½ million bucks in mutuel figures, and in New Jersey at Camden, same day, over 4 million greenbacks set a merry tune through the machines during the afternoon.

Each year figures still reach for the sky and if racing fans keep piling dough through the windows they just might help the tracks reach the sky. One week from today will be the curtain raiser at Monmouth Park, and we are wondering how far the local track will reach into the "Wild Blue Yonder" for new figures.

They're calling Monmouth Park the colorful track-by-the-sea. This is true, even though fans might not see the sea from their seats. But way up high on top of the roof and in the press box on can see the sea and the ships as they sail from New York. On clear days it's a beautiful sight watching the big ones heading out to sea and wishing for a big daily double in order to some day take a sail on the whales riding the seas.

Monmouth continues among the pioneers in the racing improvement field and this year is no exception. Monmouth fans will see numerous improvements, especially the ones coming in by train. While commuters have been "yacking" for years for improvements of their respective stations, nothing happens. Out of a clear sky, Monmouth Park builds its own little station. Racegoers coming in from New York and north Jersey will see quite a change. They will be greeted by a new and modern railroad terminus at the grandstand entrance. The terminus, which rivals in size many stations in towns and cities along the line, is an extension of the existing grandstand and covers about 5,000 square feet.

Train arrivals will no longer have to be concerned about the weather. The first car of the train will stop directly adjacent to the new terminus which is completely roofed in. It also houses a waiting area and turnstiles to the grandstand and clubhouse.

Five new escalators have been installed in the grandstand (up and down), making it possible to reach the top level without climbing a step. At the top there is a modern public cafeteria waiting for tired customers to enjoy a lunch before the races break loose.

Thirty more acres have been hard-surfaced for additional parking area and tram trains will transport patrons from parking lots direct to the grandstand entrances and return.

The clubhouse box seat area has also been enlarged for the coming season. With the addition in 1959 of a new concourse between the grandstand and the clubhouse sections, the old concourse has been roofed in Fiberglas and several new six-seat boxes have been installed near the finish line.

As one fan complained to us—"All those new improvements year in and year out, but never do they improve the seating capacity. We invariably stand when we go to the races."

MIDDLETOWN RIFLE AND PISTOL CLUB is holding outdoor shoots Tuesday nights from 6:15 to dusk and Sundays from 10:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. These shoots will run throughout the summer, constituting approximately 16 weeks of competitive shooting of the National River Rifle Association Match Reduced course.

Any shooters wishing to compete may do so at a small fee per match, all of 50 cents. At the termination of the season trophies will be awarded to those participants shooting in a percentage of the matches. Those shooting practicing matches will pay 25 cents per match. No awards will be made for this type of shooting.

Each person furnishes his own ammunition. Target frames and targets are furnished. Interested? Call Ben P. Nussbaum, secretary, SH 1-5354.

SHORT SNORTS — Bill Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson, 45 Waterman Ave., Rumson, was awarded a varsity lacrosse letter last week at Pingry School, Elizabeth. John Manley, 120 Broadway, Ocean Grove, picked up his letter for varsity baseball and brother Richard won an award for playing with the third team on the diamond.

"Hey, what's the matter with the wrestling show tonight?" The question was fired to Roland J. Hines recently over the telephone. It was Tony Galento, who was assigned by Commissioner Joe Walker to referee a wrestling match in Asbury Park. Tony was told he had the wrong night. Tony's reply, "Damn it, I guess I have my schedule all mixed up. I am just a mixed up kid!"

Monmouth Park Schedules 19 Stakes Totaling $669,500

OCEANPORT — Monmouth Park's 15th season swings into action Friday, June 10, with three stakes carrying an added or guaranteed value of $100,000 to be contested during the 50-day session. Post time daily will be 2:30 p.m.

The Sapling, for two-year-olds at six furlongs; the Sorority, for Supplementary nominations to both the Sapling, which closes the meeting Saturday, Aug. 6, and the Sorority, close five days in advance of the race at $5,000 each. A year ago, Bally Ache was supplemented to the Sapling and ran second to Sky Clipper.

In all, 19 stakes carrying $669,500 in added money will be run during the meeting. Two of these are hurdle stakes. Hurdle racing will begin after July 4. Friday's opening-day feature will be the six-furlong Oceanport Handicap for three-year-olds and up. The $15,000 Oceanport was won last year by Brookfield Farm's Itohe, who annexed last year's Wilmington Handicap at Delaware and is expected to run back in the Oceanport.

The Monmouth Handicap, to be renewed Saturday, July 16, has often pointed out the eventual "Horse of the Year." In 1959, Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer took on older horses and won over such good handicap performers as Amerigo and Talent Show en route to his national title.

Also included in the 1960 Monmouth Stakes schedule are two events with purses of $50,000 added. They are the Monmouth Oaks, at a mile and an eighth for three-year-old fillies, and the Choice, at a mile and a sixteenth for three-year-olds of either sex. The Oaks will be run Saturday, July 23, and the Choice Wednesday, Aug. 3.

Last season, Perle L. Grisom's Royal Native, now owned by William S. MacDonald, scored the first stakes victory of her career in the Oaks, then went on to win acclaim as Filly of the Year.

Cricket II, about eight miles off the south shore a few miles west of Montauk Point—the eastern tip of the island. The dreaded white shark, rare in New York waters, battled to the last.

Mundus said he and his mate, Stanley Lenox, were the only persons aboard the "Cricket II" when the shark was sighted. They tried to bait it with rod and reel for 20 minutes as it swam around the boat, Mundus said.

Finally they decided to use harpoons. No less than four irons were required to kill the shark, Mundus said.

Back at Gosman's dock in Montauk, no scale could register the shark's weight.

Later, a fishing boat with a 3,000-pound lifting capacity just managed to lift the shark out of the water.

Montauk records show that the world's record white shark, caught on rod and reel, weighed 2,664 pounds. It was caught April 21, 1959, off Australia.

The white shark is so feared off the Australian coast that beaches there maintain special shark guards and heavy nets are set in place just off the breakers.

The Cincinnati Reds had three 20-game winning pitchers in 1923 — and they failed to win the National League pennant.

YONKERS, N. Y. — Widower Creed (7.90) equalled the world record of 3:04 2/5 for the mile and one-half in winning the first leg of the $150,000 International pacing series at Yonkers Raceway.

HARLECH, Wales — Barbara McIntire, 25-year-old United States champion from Lake Park, Fla., defeated Ireland's Philomena Garvey 4 and 2 for the British Amateur title.

SURF, FIELD AND STREAM

Timely Notes on the Great Outdoors
By NELSON BENEDICT

The panic is on at Sandy Hook, meaning that king-size strippers are engaging in their annual spring frolic along the beach and in the turbulent currents of the Rip. Largest bass brought in by a Highland boat to date weighed 53 pounds, three ounces. A 55½-pounder was taken aboard a trolling vessel from Sheepshead Bay.

Scores of bass weighing 20 pounds or more have been caught in the Rip in recent days. Fairly common are fish in the 40 to 45-pound bracket. This could be the spring when a 60-pounder will be collared by a local angler. The signs auger well on that score.

It is mandatory to adjust your schedule to the feeding times of the bass if you would prosper in the Sandy Hook trolling league. Fastest fishing occurs when the tide is about at half-ebb. By slack water, it's usually all over in the Rip, and the Rip is the place to go right now.

This reporter joined Joe Renzo and Red Spinazzola on the latter's Little Carol at Highlands Basin Landing the other dawning. Two hours of trolling yielded seven strikes and two bass, 21 and 28 pounds. Lost at the transom was one of those big fellows in the 40-pounds-plus bracket.

Plugs are presently universal favorites as lures. Hot plug this spring seems to be an oversize Creek Chub deep-runner. The plugs are fished close to the bottom with the aid of wire line and trolling sinkers. Many anglers prefer lead core, or weighted, line to wire. The former is much easier to manage on the reel.

For the benefit of anglers who may not know the precise location of the Rip, buoy No. 5 is as good a place as any to start trolling. Or, just follow the fleet! You won't want for company.

There are fish in the surf, too. One of the boats from Highlands Basin Landing picked up four there yesterday. Fellow out from Highlands Marina with Otto Reut on the First Timer the other morning landed a 44-pounder on an artificial squid.

Surfmens haven't been doing too well with the bull bass, although strays have been deposited on the sand at Sandlass Beach and Ship Ahoy. The jetty just to the north of the Sea Bright Beach Club has been a fairly steady producer of bass of the school variety.

Still another interesting development in the Sandy Hook area involves the rapid buildup of fluke fishing. The summer flatfish are really biting. Eddie Custer of Roxy's Pier in Highlands says his rowboat patrons have been catching up to 22 on a tide.

Anglers out from Johnny's Landing with Ed Petrasko on the Sandy Hook Queen morning before last did extremely well with fluke. A dozen or so weighing three pounds or more were included in the bags.

Raritan and Sandy Hook Bay pound nets are catching lots and lots of small blues. Strangely enough, trollers have not been able to do much with the bluefish as yet. That omission should be rectified this week-end.

Mad clear through is Mrs. Lawrence Clarke of Locust. Another dead porpoise washed ashore on Mrs. Clarke's riverfront property on the Navesink. What aroused the lady's ire was the fact the porpoise had been shot. Her contention is that porpoises are harmless, ornamental creatures of the sea.

There is no justification whatsoever for the wanton slaughter of the small harbor porpoises now in the Navesink. Anyone who destroys one of the warm-blooded mammals commits an offense against common decency. Unfortunately there is no law, state or federal, against killing them.

The charge that porpoises are hurting fishing in the twin rivers is absolutely without foundation in fact. Anglers are catching lots of school strippers at the bridges, and fluke scores are improving daily.

Both adult and junior members of the Navesink Rod and Gun Club enjoyed themselves hugely at a trout outing in Holmdel last Sunday. The youngsters were rewarded for their angling prowess. Eric Morton Fair Haven, won first prize with a 15¼-inch trout. Sara Davis, Shrewsbury, and Sully Knott, Fair Haven, finished second and third, respectively.

This reporter tried to beat the week-end weather jinx the hard way. We traipsed clear on down to Bimini and Cat Cay to be assured of unlimited sunshine Memorial Day. It rained cats and dogs most of the time we were in the Bahamas. Bad as it may have been, the weather here last week-end was infinitely superior to that of southern Florida and the islands.

We hate to say so, but the weatherman is talking in terms of showers again for tomorrow and Sunday. Weatherwise, week-end anglers have taken it on the chin ever since mid-April.

Elsewhere on the angling front, Barnegat Inlet striper fishing is red-hot. Stunt there is to chum and bait with live shrimp from boats anchored alongside the jetties. Catches of 20 and 30 bass to the boat were reported from Forked River and Waretown during the past week.

Brielle and Belmar party boat operators are shouting the praises of porgy and seabass fishing on the Ammunition Grounds off Spring Lake. Mackerel vamoosed, although midweek chummers did come by spotty jigging on Cholera Bank.

Best bet for jetty anglers would appear to be that Eighth Ave. Jetty in Ashbury Park where strippers up to 49 pounds have been landed on live herring. And where do you get live herring? From the flume which connects Deal Lake with the sea.

Single, Wood To Represent U.S. in Naples

CLEARWATER (AP) — A 30-year-old New Jersey industrial engineer today held the right to represent the United States in the Flying Dutchman class Olympic sailing races.

Harry Single of Little Falls, N. J., won one race and finished third in the final event of the seven-race trials yesterday. He won a total of three races, finished second in two others and was third in the remainder.

Single, who had Bob Wood of Red Bank, N. J., as crew for the trials, won the Pan American "old medal" last year and was three times North American champion of the sloop-rigged 19-foot class.

Under Olympic sailing rules, skippers are permitted to throw out their worst finish and base their scoring on only six events.

Single said he planned to enter several regattas in Europe next month before going to Naples, Italy, in August for the Olympics.

Other finishers included Martin Bludworth, Houston, Tex.; Ronald Meissner, Racine, Wis.; and David Fladlein, Los Angeles.

Hall Top Rider At Horse Show

OCEANPORT — John Hall of Little Silver rode his horse "Jim Dandy" to victory in the first annual show given by the Portaupeck Fire Company here last Saturday.

Hall won over-all honors and the Western championship, and Mrs. Ann Dixon of Wall Township, riding "Quaker Miss," took reserve honors after winning two events.

The show, which drew entries from throughout the state, was directed by Al Cosentino. Bud Nelson of Summit was judge; Cosentino was ring master, and Mrs. Edward Clayton, Oceanport, show secretary.

Besides Mrs. Dixon, there were three other double winners. They were: Jane Marks on "Dummy," winner in the Western pleasure and Western horsemanship classes; Conrad Sheriff, on "Rummy," won the open working stock horse and reining course classes; and Mrs. Harold Ely, on "Copper," who won the best-dressed Western rider class and teamed with her husband to cop the pair class.

Lead line-1. Ann Dixon on Quaker Miss, 2. Steven Lang on Dummy, 3. John Hancock on Cher, 4. Eleanor Sherman on Jumbo.

Model stock horse class-1. John Hall on Jim Dandy, 2. Ed Dixon on Quaker Miss, 3. Harold Ely on Copper, 4. Eleanor Sherman on Jumbo.

Reining course-1. Conrad Sheriff on Rummy, 2. Ann Dixon on Quaker Miss, 3. John Hancock on Jim Dandy, 4. Ed Dixon on Copper, 5. Miriam Miller on Dummy.

We have been spending the entire week on penalty doubles of low contracts, and have already observed that your partner's penalty doubles are suggestions, not commands. Here's another case in which the opening bidder should use his own judgment.

South has a sound opening bid, and West has a fair overcall of two diamonds. North has the sort of light penalty double we have been discussing. This double shows a good defensive hand but doesn't guarantee murderous strength in the enemy's suit.

South would be delighted to accept a double of two clubs or two hearts, but he is not eager to defend against two diamonds. Therefore he takes the double out by showing his second suit.

North is delighted to raise to four hearts. He knows that South has at most one diamond, so that his own strength in clubs is sure to be useful. If South has an opening bid with biddable spades and hearts and a singleton diamond

MEDICAL MEMOS

By M. L. Horschowski, M.D.

Women who wear rubber girdles and who sit for many hours a day, as during office work, are liable to the risk of developing thrombophlebitis. This is an inflammation of the veins in the leg in which there are blood clots.

Apparently this danger is much less likely if the women wearing such girdles stand most of the time, such as salesladies. The reason for this is that the tight-fitting rubber girdles become even tighter when sitting, causing interference with the return of the blood from the veins of the legs.

The effect is quite similar to the use of circular elastic garters which fit tightly around the leg. They act as a tourniquet, seriously interfering with the circulation. The blood in the veins cannot properly squeeze through on its way back to the heart. Consequently, it accumulates in the veins, not only injuring the valves of the veins so that they become varicose but also encouraging the formation of blood clots in the stagnant blood.

For Friday, June 3

Present—For You and Yours... The week end is excellently aspected, so try to get work out of way so as to start early this afternoon. You'll find enjoyment in friends, but don't join them unless you're feeling well. The day could bring a situation that might test your loyalty and affection.

Past... German inflation began to run wild in 1922-23... 160,000 marks were required to equal a dollar's purchasing power. By November, 1923, the mark was valued at 4,200,000,000,000 to the dollar!

The Day Under Your Sign
ARIES (Born March 21 to April 19) You can be too independent and antagonize others instead of enlisting sympathy.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Test time, labor, and money-saving innovations at your place of business.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Keep things on a casual basis. Don't get serious about a new acquaintance.
CANCER (June 22 to July 21) Surprise some one by asking him or her out to dinner and a movie.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You won't have to go far from home to get backing for your personal plans.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) You can find the right words to express your feelings.
LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 22) Be flexible and people will cooperate. Subordinates can be your downfall!
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are easily swayed by others now, but don't do anything you'd regret later.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You may have to open your home to a relative for about time.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't be an easy mark for a hard-luck story. Be sure the need is genuine.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) It is better to go after what you want rather than just wishing for it.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Consider family needs before friends. Generosity could be your downfall!

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The Russians started — Khrushchev hooted at the idea by saying: "Sending the goat to take care of the cabbage."

In his letter yesterday he made Nixon part of what he called a "whole chain of acts" on the part of the Eisenhower administration leading up to the summit fiasco.

But while all this can be interpreted as out and out anti-Republican, Khrushchev on his visit to the United States last September said he could not see much difference between Democrats and Republicans.

He repeated that theme obliquely yesterday: "We know that there are two major political parties in your country, but the foreign policy of the U.S.A. is said to be bipartisan."

The Nixon followers already are trying to make capital of the idea that the vice president, if elected president, would be just the one to cope with the roly-poly Khrushchev.

Klein Comments
Nixon's press secretary, Herbert Klein, put it this way: "The American people have confidence in his (Nixon's) ability to handle international relations with Russia."

When the summit began to topple under Khrushchev's assault in May, four Democrats wrote to Eisenhower in Paris, asking him to pass on their views to Khrushchev.

These four were: Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, both with their eyes on the Democratic presidential nomination; Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, and Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee.

They told Khrushchev all Americans were behind Eisenhower in a desire for peace. Khrushchev's answer — blaming the summit crackup on the Eisenhower administration — was greeted by Johnson this way: It is an "arrogant denial of the facts."

It would be easy to conclude, from what Khrushchev has already said, that he wants the Republicans to lose the election. For example:

1. He blames the Eisenhower administration for wrecking the summit conference.

2. He doesn't want another conference until after the election, which means he doesn't want another one with President Eisenhower.

3. He links Nixon directly into his blame on the Eisenhower administration for the summit collapse.

4. And he has ridiculed Nixon. When he heard Eisenhower might let Nixon sit in for him for a while at the summit conference — this was before it

2d Wagon Wheel Players Production Has Opening

MIDDLETOWN — "Mrs. McThing" by Mary Chase, the second production by the Wagon Wheel Playhouse, got under way Wednesday night at the Playhouse at Rt. 35 and Chestnut St. The production runs through tomorrow night, and will run again from Wednesday to Saturday, June 11.

Mrs. A. Elliot Lawes, Rumson, who portrays the lead, Mrs. Howard V. Larue, a wealthy widow, has been seen in many other plays, including "Medea" and "A Phoenix Too Frequent."

Carrie, the housekeeper, is played by Miss Donna Nordlund of Middletown. Mrs. Nordlund was in the playhouse production of "The Seven Year Itch."

Miss Rose Calcerano, Middletown, portrays Sybil, the maid. Miss Calcerano, a teacher of English in the local high school, is playing her first part with the playhouse.

The part of Evva Lewis is played by Miss Joan Dempsey. Miss Dempsey moves from the position of a behind-the-scenes worker to her first role with the playhouse.

Mrs. Peter J. Edwardsen, who plays Maude Lewis, was last seen in the playhouse production of "The Seven Year Itch." A native of England, Mrs. Edwardsen began her acting career in the repertory theatre, similar to summer stock.

Frederick Bernhard, who plays Nelson, the bodyguard, is a member of the teenage group of the playhouse. This is his first role in the adult group of the playhouse.

The role of Howay, the boy, is recreated by David J. McAneny, who makes his stage debut in "Mrs. McThing."

Allen Leatherman, who plays the chef, was last seen on the Wagon Wheel Stage as Richard Sherman in "The Seven Year Itch." This is his second role with the playhouse.

William Lemmon, who plays Dirty Joe, was formerly associated with the Footlight Players in Long Island where he appeared in "Mornings at Seven."

Robert Richmond, who portrays Stinker, is a teacher in Raritan Township and was recently seen in "Three Men on a Horse," which he produced.

David G. McAneny, who plays Poisen Eddie Schellenbach, played Tom in the "Seven Year Itch."

Mrs. McAneny plays Mrs. Schellenbach. This is her first role with the playhouse.

Susan McAneny, as Mimi, makes her theater debut. Jack Dempsey steps from behind the scenes where he utilizes his talents on publicity and promotion to the footlights. He plays the policeman in the play.

Robin Harvey, who plays Mrs. McThing, is an accomplished artist who has executed many sets.

Take notice that Frank J. Perry has been elected to the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Red Bank for a second year. The election was held on May 27, 1960, at 7 Broad Street, Red Bank, New Jersey.

WEATHER OUTLOOK — These maps, based on those issued June 1 by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington, show the outlook for the next 30 days. Maps indicate a hot and wet June is in prospect for much of the country. Precipitation is expected to exceed normal in most of the country. It will be hotter than normal over the Great Lakes region and most of the western half of the United States. (AP Map)

Mayor Guiney Heads Lions

HIGHLANDS — At a recent dinner meeting of the Lions Club in Cedar Inn, Mayor Cornelius J. Guiney, Jr., was elected president. He will succeed Benjamin Gruber.

Others elected were Louis L. Loder, first vice president; John Rast, second vice president; John J. McConnell, third vice president; William E. Lee, secretary, serving in this office more than 20 years; Samuel Silberblatt, treasurer; Stephen H. Falter, tail twister; Sherman T. Smith, Lion tamer; Anton J. Kornek, financial secretary, and Cornelius J. Guiney, Sr., John Sciortino, Sr., James H. McGough, G. V. Kad-enbach, Floyd Clayton, directors.

Albert G. McCracken of Fair Haven, international councillor, will install the officers Tuesday, June 28, at Alpine Manor. Mayor Peter Cartmell of Rumson, guest speaker, talked on the history of Rumson and described the municipal government procedures of his borough.

The local club will meet with the Atlantic Highlands Lions Club Monday at Doppelt's Hofbrauhaus, Atlantic Highlands. The clubs will honor graduates from the local high schools as dinner guests.

4 Drivers Fined In Traffic Court

SEA BRIGHT — Two motorists were fined for speeding in magistrate's court last night while two others paid fines for careless driving.

Fined $10 each for speeding were Richard E. Davis, 99 Walnut St., Middletown, and Dennis J. Cassidy, 716 Jersey Ave., Union Beach.

Fined $10 for careless driving were James P. Breen RD 2, Logantown, Pa., and Harold W. Boyd, Jr., 38 Wardell Ave., Rumson.

Car Hits Pole, Woman Injured

LITTLE SILVER — Mrs. Gladys Krebsky, 36, of 69 Judith Rd., suffered minor back injuries yesterday when her car struck a utility pole at Point Rd. and Willow Dr.

Mrs. Krebsky was treated at Riverview Hospital and released. Police said Mrs. Krebsky was traveling west on Point Rd. and was approaching the Willow Dr. intersection when her brakes failed. She attempted to make a left turn on Willow Dr., but the car failed to make the turn and struck the pole.

Special Officer Warren Herbert investigated.

TV & Radio

Raves for Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK — When, a couple of weeks back, NBC's falling Startime Hour was filled with a musical show called "Sing Along With Mitch," neither sponsor nor network was much excited about the program.

It was — by Startime standards — a low-budget show, $100,000. The gimmick was that the home viewers were invited to sing old familiar songs along with the male chorus and orchestra. Host, Mitch Miller, a bearded records-company executive, confined his remarks to the fewest possible words.

But in terms of audience response, "Sing Along With Mitch" turned out to be the network's sleeper of the year. As soon as the show was over, the switchboard at network headquarters was overloaded with approving calls — 350 came in before the night was over.

To date, NBC has received all most 1,000 letters about the show — all enthusiastic raves — and mail is still coming in, forwarded by affiliate stations.

"This show has received more mail than any special all year," says Mrs. Kathryn Cole, manager of the network's information department. "And by that I mean mail to NBC. We don't handle mail that is sent directly to the show or to the performers."

Of course, the Sing Along Show response came nowhere near that received by NBC during the period five months ago when Jack Paar was engaged in his headlined walk-out and walk-back. What Mrs. Cole refers to blandly as "the Paar incident drew 28,774 letters — 22,031 of them pro-Paar, and 6,333 anti-Paar. Another 350 were noncommittal."

Other memorable deluges — all complaints — occurred when, a couple of years ago, "Matinee Theatre" went off (some 10,000 letters); when "Noah's Ark" went off (more than 10,000); when "One Man's Family" departed network radio (about 5,000); and when Eddie Fisher appeared on TV at the time his marital problems were in the headlines (well over 1,000).

On another occasion, when an actor in a drama accidentally uttered an oath, some 4,500 letters poured in.

Mrs. Cole, after 18 years of handling broadcasting mail, can usually predict the types of

HER SON WAS SHOT TO DEATH — Mrs. Lillian Grafefo bends over bullet-riddled body of her son, Vincent, 17, lying on street of New York's Brooklyn early June 2. The youth was beaten and shot by several unidentified men. Residents near the murder scene told police they heard screams from an auto. They said two men dragged the victim from the car, beat him and knocked him down. Another man jumped from a second car, pulled a gun and fired several shots into the youth as Vincent lay on the ground. (AP Photo)

Thomas McVey To Be Ordained In Washington

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — Rev. Thomas Chrysostom McVey son of Mrs. Margaret McVey and the late Dr. Thomas C. McVey of 23 Sixth Ave., will be ordained to the priesthood on June 16, at 9 a. m., in St. Dominic's Catholic Church, Washington, D. C., by Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, the Apostolic Delegate to the U. S.

Rev. Thomas C. McVey

He will celebrate his first Solemn Mass in St. Agnes Church here on June 19 at noon.

Rev. Michael J. Lease, pastor, will be archbishop for the mass. Rev. J. F. Whittaker, professor of philosophy at Providence College, Providence, R. I., and Rev. J. B. Morris, of St. Vincent Ferrer Church, New York City, will serve as deacon and subdeacon, respectively.

Father McVey attended the local elementary school and Red Bank Catholic High School, graduating in 1951.

He immediately began his studies for the priesthood at Providence College. In August, 1953, he received the habit of the Dominican Order and commenced his year of novitiate at St. Stephen Priory, Dover, Mass.

Three years of philosophical studies were pursued at Dominican Houses of Studies in Springfield, Ky., and Dover, Mass.

After pronouncing his solemn vows in August of 1957, he began the study of theology at the Dominican House of Studies, Washington, D. C.

Father McVey received his A. B. degree in philosophy and a bachelor degree in Sacred Theology.

After ordination he will return to Washington to complete his theological training.

Father McVey is a member of the Order of Preachers, also called the Dominican Order after its founder, St. Dominic. Founded in the early years of the 13th century, the Order is noted for its preaching and teaching, and for its foreign missions.

Governed by an elected master general, Most Rev. Michael Browne, the Dominican Order today numbers nearly 10,000 members throughout the world.

MONMOUTH COUNTY COURT
LAW DIVISION
Docket No. 10322
IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF ETHEL MARQUETTE YOUNG FOR THE CANCELLATION OF A CERTAIN MORTGAGE REGISTERED IN MONMOUTH COUNTY IN BOOK 908 OF MORTGAGES AT PAGE 410 etc.

Civil Action
ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
This matter being opened to the court by Sverre Sorenson, a member of the firm of Sorenson and Lawley, attorneys for the plaintiff, and it appearing from the duly verified complaint, which has been filed with the court, that there is a mortgage open record in the Office of the Clerk of the County Court, which was recorded in Book 908 of Mortgages at Page 410 etc., which mortgage was dated June 1, 1929 and recorded on June 3, 1929, made by Ethel Marquette Young to Henry Blair;

ANSWER APPEARING that the names of the persons who may have any possible interest in said mortgage or the proceeds of said mortgage and the debt secured thereby are as follows:

That above named person, her heirs, devisees and personal representatives, and her, their or any of their successors in right, title and interest, have no further interest in said mortgage or the debt secured thereby;

IT IS on this 31st day of May, 1960 ordered that any one of the persons hereinabove set forth and named and identified, show cause before the Monmouth County Court on the 1st day of July, 1960 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon or as soon thereafter as counsel can be had why judgment should not be entered directing the Clerk of Monmouth County to cancel or record the mortgage which appears in Book 908 of Mortgages at Page 410 etc., in accordance with the statutory provisions in such cases made and provided.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that cause be made upon the defect to show cause and every one of them, by advertising first in the Monmouth County Court, and thereafter in the FREE PRESS, a public newspaper circulating in and about the County of Monmouth, for four consecutive weeks, that such publications should be sufficient notice of process upon said defendants.

STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND CENTER

Airview of Strategic Air Command's headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha.

Famous "Red Telephone" in hand, Maj. D. S. Henshaw, an SAC senior controller, demonstrates how he can put entire command on the alert by simply taking phone off hook and speaking the order.

Radio station connects SAC headquarters with major sub-commands (numbered air forces in the States and major installations overseas) and all command aircraft wherever they may be flying.

The Strategic Air Command headquarters command post is probably the world's most publicized basement.

In the three levels underground at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha there is a complex of telephone, teletype and radio facilities which permit commanders to keep tabs on a bomber and missile force scattered across the globe.

In the event of nuclear attack, the SAC command can retreat to its cellar, guarded by heavy steel doors against explosive shock and radiation. There, food and bedding are stockpiled, and a power plant stands ready to furnish enough emergency power to maintain a city of 8,000.

About one-third of the SAC force is always on the alert for action, ready to be airborne within 15 minutes. So commanders in Omaha need to know continuously the status of aircraft, weather conditions and political developments around the world.

Twice daily they are briefed by closed-circuit television from the information which pours in via the communications net.

The heart of the underground operation is a great, two-story room lined with light-flooded maps and charts on one side and glass-fronted rooms on the other. Behind the glass of a balcony is a long desk for Gen. Thomas S. Power, the SAC chief and his staff. In a larger room beneath are banks of television monitors, tape recorders and technicians at audio and TV consoles. In a corner is the senior SAC controller, the Red Telephone at his fingertips. He need only lift the instrument and give an order to put the command on instant alert. His voice will be heard on loudspeakers throughout the command.

Directed by voice of controller filtering through his ear-phones, a sergeant posts new information on one of command's "reflex" operations on map panel in control room.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander, at controls of his KC135 jet tanker, on recent flight to Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Message center where clerks take messages coming in from all parts of headquarters by pneumatic tube and distribute them for transmission, and vice versa.

One of the twice daily briefing sessions which are televised on a closed circuit in the headquarters. An SAC intelligence officer studies map on wall.

S. Sgt. Billy Davis stands before sign at main gate bearing command's motto. SAC men prefer to interpret destructive potential of SAC as Free World's instrument for preserving the peace.

Bridge Column

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When your partner doubles an opponent for penalties you need not accept his decision as final. You may be able to find a much better contract. Your partner's double is just a first idea, which can be modified after he learns more about your hand.

North has a fine hand, but he isn't particularly happy about using it to defend against a low diamond contract. South's double promises general strength, not merely strength in the enemy's suit, so that there should be a good trump fit in hearts or clubs. North can indicate his strength and his distribution by bidding East's suit. The bid of three diamonds says: "Partner, I am void of diamonds and therefore do not want to let your double stand. I have length and considerable strength in both unbid suits. Take your pick."

South indicates a choice by bidding three hearts, whereupon North makes a mild slam try by bidding four clubs. South would stay at the level of four if he had a poorish hand, but is glad to raise to five clubs since he knows that his hand must furnish a fine fit for the North hand. North then wastes no time in getting to slam in hearts. The opponents have 11 high-card points, leaving only 29 points for North and South, but this is ample for the slam.

Declarer ruffs the first diamond in dummy, cashes the king and jack of hearts, and gets to his hand with a club to ruff another diamond in dummy. He then returns with a club to draw the last trump. Twelve tricks are then laid down.

DAILY QUESTION
Partner opens with one club and the next player bids one diamond. You hold: Spades-7 3

PINT-SIZE SOLDIER

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Sgt. David Wood is barely as tall as the rifle he shoulders, but he's one of the most enthusiastic members of the Florida National Guard.

Although he's only 7, David can execute the manual of arms, drill and bark orders with the other NCOs.

Like most boys, David takes an avid interest in anything his father does. So one Sunday a month, when William Wood goes to drill, David goes along. Together they don fatigues and combat boots and journey to the Dade County Armory at Miami where Bill Wood is first sergeant of Headquarters Company, Battle Group, 211th Infantry Regiment.

David takes his monthly visits to the Army seriously. He follows dad as he checks the troops and equipment or guides them in training. He takes his meals with the troops.

"That kid's a real soldier," said one guardsman. "He even takes orders without question." The senior Wood proudly agreed, and added: "If only he'd do that at home."

FALSE ALARM

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The report of a suspected burglary sent two patrol cars hurrying to a Phoenix home.

"We're the ones who called you," said Trudel Kinimonth, 9 and Kathleen Cavness, also 9. "We think there is a burglary going on at the vacant house down the street."

The girls handed officers a written report on the preliminary investigation. It read: "Clues for booglers: Two dead birds, 10 feet apart; one fozet slily bent; one piece cloth, torn; one broken beer bottle; one open window; one door by swimming pool almost open; one torn scream."

The officers checked out the clues, found no "booglers" and left.

CAR SALESMAN FLIES

MANASQUAN, N. J. (AP) — Richard Davis sells autos, but he abhors road traffic.

So the 31-year-old salesman built a 1,000-foot airstrip at the rear of his property and uses a single-engine plane for his frequent business trips.

"ASTRO-GUIDE"

By Ceean

For Saturday, June 4

Present—For You and Yours... When it comes to money, consider the needs of your dependents first. Others shouldn't expect you to pay for their mistakes (but unfortunately some do). Consider whether they would come to your aid if the situation were reversed. Aspects are excellent for sociability.

Past... On June 4, 1884, General William T. Sherman sent hopeful Republicans convening in Chicago, a telegram rejecting nomination for the Presidency: "If nominated, I will not accept; if elected, I will not serve."

Future... Exports of cotton may total 6.5 million bales in 1960, compared with 2.8 million last season. Export prices are expected to show little change.

The Day Under Your Sign

ARIES (Born March 21 to April 19) Responsibilities seem burdensome, but relief from obligations is due.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Good aspects for do-it-yourself projects, and for enhancing your appearance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you're in the mood for romance, this is the day you're apt to find it.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) Inner resources are strengthened and you'll feel happier than for some time.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't let envy mar your day. You, too, can get what you want.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Even though you resent interference, cope with the situation tactfully.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't give up something you possess for unknown factors.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) People stand ready to help you to success—morally or financially.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If an unexpected visitor drops in, invite the rest of the gang.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't get excited if routine is disrupted—a change will do you good.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Go ahead with plans! You have the right instinct and good judgment.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Go your own way if those around you seem reluctant to help.

Three Educators To Lead Drive

TRENTON — Three Monmouth County educators have been asked to lead the membership campaign of state and national teacher organizations in the county next year.

They are: Earl B. Garrison, county superintendent of schools; Milton Hughes, principal of the Syca more School of Shrewsbury Township, and William E. Miller, superintendent of Manasquan schools.

There are 2,678 Monmouth County members of the New Jersey Education Association. Teachers pay $10 a year in dues.

It adds up! More and more people use Register ads each issue because results come faster.—Advertisement.
